Marion County Woman Killed in Truck-Auto Crash

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION ON RURAL ROAD

Mrs. Maude Davis of Waldo Victim of Accident Near Newmans.

A Waldo woman was killed instantly at 9:40 a. m. today and two other Marion county residents were injured in a collision of an automobile and milk truck 6.6 miles south of Marion on county roads 119 and 122.

Dead was Mrs. Maude Davis, 54, of near Waldo, a former Green Camp resident.

Two Injured

Injured were Mrs. Wanda Dennison, 37, of near Marion, driver of the car in which Mrs. Davis was riding, and John Cusick, 21, of the Davis-Gooding pike south of Marion, driver of the milk truck. Both the injured were taken to City hospital in the Merle H. Hughes ambulance. Mrs. Dennison is reported suffering shock and possible internal injuries, Mr. Cusick, shock and possible fractured ribs.

According to state highway patrolmen, Mrs. Dennison was driving east on route 122, Cusick was southbound on route 119. The intersection where the collision occurred is east of Newman's bridge.

Truck on Milk Route

Patrolmen said the women were enroute to the Dennison home where they were planning to hang wallpaper. Cusick was gathering milk on the rural route nearby.

Cusick was thrown from the truck, patrolmen said and was pinned under the car. Both machines were demolished.

The body of Mrs. Davis was brought to the Hughes Mortuary.

Surviving are her husband, Vern, and four children, William, Robert, Celia and Virginia.

Before moving to Waldo about a year ago, the family lived for a number of years at Green Camp.

BASIC COMMODITIES RECORD PRICE RISE

By The Associated Press

The food-price picture appeared gloomy for the nation's consumers today—after yesterday's upturns in many commodities at the country's major markets.

In Minneapolis wheat soared past the $3 a bushel mark for the first time since 1920, and in Omaha and Kansas City cash wheat also sold for more than $3.

In Chicago's livestock market cattle brought a top price of $36.25 a hundred pounds, a 1947 high and 75 cents under the all-time top of $37 paid last October and November. Hogs also moved to a higher level, hitting $29.75 in an advance of 50 cents to $1 for the third straight day.

In Chicago and in New York state's larger cities buyers of milk paid an additional cent a quart. In Chicago the store price was 23½ cents a quart. In Cleveland the price of a loaf of bread was raised one cent.

As cash wheat in Minneapolis reached $3.01¾, there was a hike in the price of flour to bakers in the Minneapolis flour market. The standard patents' (baker's flour) rose 20 cents to $7.65 a hundred pounds.

Grade AA butter in New York sold at 79¾ cents wholesale after yesterday's gain of ¾ cent a pound, the third consecutive day showing a rise. In Chicago butter dropped ½ to 2 cents, grade AA selling at 76½ cents.

In the Chicago grain market wheat futures kept on climbing and after advances of 5 to 8¼ cents a bushel, the December delivery closed at $2.92½, the highest any December wheat contract has sold in the near 100 year history of the board of trade. Corn also was higher, gaining 5½ to 6¼ cents, with December at $2.36¼-¾.

EXPORT CUT ASKED TO TRIM FOOD COSTS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2—Soaring American food prices would be reduced "substantially" if the U. S. government took action to cut the volume of foreign shipments, an agricultural economist predicted today.

Walter B. Garver of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, in an address prepared for delivery at the 34th annual convention of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, asserted that curtailment of American shipments abroad was a "strong probability" in the battle against high prices.

The economist reported this country's agricultural food prices also would be reduced "via the indirect effect" of such a pro-

Grand Jury To Convene Friday

Special Session on Shappard Murder Charge Set To Start at 9:15.

A special session of the Marion county grand jury will be convened at 9:15 a. m. Friday to begin consideration of the first degree murder charge against Ray A. Shappard, 32, accused of the hammer slaying of Roxie Ann Green.

It was reported in the sheriff's office this morning that 22 witnesses had been subpoenaed for the Shappard case. Officials today also were considering the possibility of presenting two other cases held over from the regular grand jury session which ended last Saturday.

It was considered unlikely today that a report of any indictments returned by the grand jury would be made to Judge Paul D. Smith before Saturday and possibly not until Monday. Time of the report will be determined by the speed with which the jury completes the matters before it.

Shappard's case will go before the grand jury as a result of a bind over by Judge Dexter Hazen last Tuesday. At his arraignment on a first degree murder charge that day Shappard pleaded guilty. He was ordered bound to the grand jury and held in county jail without bond.

In his jail cell he has had no visitors since his wife called Tuesday night. Tuesday and Friday are regular visiting days at the jail.

In the case of Shappard's indictment, which is considered a foregone conclusion, it appeared probable today that the court would be required to appoint an attorney to conduct his defense.

It was reported from the county jail today that Shappard had not called for an attorney and that none had visited him in his cell.

AMVETS OPEN MEET ON PEACE THEME

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2—The third annual national convention of the American Veterans of World War II opened today on a theme of world peace.

Initial ceremonies included a whistle and bell greeting from the city of Columbus, followed by one minute of silence and memorial services for the war dead.

Brig. Gen. J. M. DeVine, commanding general of the universal military training unit at Fort Knox, Ky., and Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), were to speak at 4:45 p. m.

Other speakers today included Ohio AMVET Commander Frank C. McCaslin of New Bedford, Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, and Herschel Atkinson, executive vice president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

"The American way of life" is tomorrow's theme, and Saturday it's "helping veterans help themselves." The convention closes Sunday with election of officers.

DeForrest E. Grahame of Tulsa, Okla., was elected national "Saddest Sad Sack" yesterday when AMVETS fun division held a pre-convention session. He succeeded Thad G. Males of Santa Barbara, Calif.

Dr. Brady, president of the association, presided.

Here for the meeting was Charles Nelson, executive secretary of the Ohio State Medical association, who reviewed important matters concerning local, state and national medical associations. Mr. Nelson is a former resident of Marion.

Speakers for the day included Dr. Allan C. Barnes, professor of obstetrics and gynecology, who spoke on "Non-Hormonal Sex Hormone Therapy" Dr. George I. Zollinger, professor and head of the department of surgery whose topic was "Cancer of the Colon."

Mundy of Toledo, talked on the Ohio State Medical Indemnity Inc., sponsored by the Ohio State Medical society, and a talk on the plans and activities of the state organization was given by Dr. A. A. Brindley of Toledo, president-elect of the Ohio State Medical society and former Fourth district counselor. Here also for the meeting were Dr. Craig Bowman of Upper Sandusky, counselor of the Third district, and Dr. Robert Elwell, executive secretary of the Academy of Medicine in Toledo and Miss Emmy Lou Harney of Toledo, who were in charge of registrations.

Resolutions of sympathy were read on the sudden death of Dr. Barney J. Hein of Toledo, a former president of the Ohio State Medical association. An invitation extended by Dr. E. E. Rakestraw of Findlay to hold the 1948 meeting in that city, was accepted.

Decorations for the luncheon were arranged by members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Marion Academy of Medicine of which Mrs. Richard L. Morgan is president. In the afternoon members of the auxiliary were hostesses to wives of out-of-town members of the association at cards.

McMillen Workers Back As 6-Week Strike Ends

Conservation Experiment Gets Under Way in Licking County

By The Associated Press

BROWNSVILLE, O., Oct. 2—An attempt to remake two farmed-out pieces of Licking county hill-land and revive it from the ravages of over-farming by past generations gets under way here today.

It's the "Second Frontier Day" demonstration of reshaping the adjoining farms of John Bodman and George Latham with strip cropping, contouring, pond building, and refencing, so that they will have a chance to produce food for a hungry world as they once did, in their virgin state, for the pioneers of a century and more ago.

The demonstration, sponsored by the Licking county soil conservation district, calls for 75 or more tractors manned by 600 volunteers, mainly exGI's from vocational-agricultural classes of neighboring counties, to go over the 208 acres with every modern tool.

From their bumping over beaten-up ground, over-farmed for decades, will come everything that agricultural science knows today about rebuilding fertility and keeping it where it belongs—in the soil rather than in the run-off of a rain storm.

See Big Crowds

Sponsors predicted crowds of 5,000 to 50,000—even the figure of 100,000 has been talked about, though not too seriously—to see some part of the show, which is giving the little hill village the biggest combination carnival, historical pageant, and scientific lesson the people ever heard of. The two farms front on U. S. 40, the national Old Trails, which carried pioneers to the west and now carries a huge burden of traffic, local, Ohio, and transcontinental.

The day's program includes a pageant and parade of wagons made to look like the Conestoga wagons whose ruts first made U. S. 40, plus speeches and ceremonies as well as the actual work of packing into eight or 10 hours $3,000 to $5,000 worth of practical landscaping—all donated by farm implement and oil companies and financed by contributions from numerous Licking county and Ohio organizations.

To Honor Chief

Ceremonies honoring Hugh H. Bennett, chief of the U. S. soil conservation service, scheduled for 2:30 p. m., include unveiling of a plaque on a granite boulder next to the famous Eagle Rest monument, and presentation of a scroll from Ohio workers of the service.

Bennett will speak following the unveiling, and Frank Farnsworth, state director of agriculture, will represent Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, whose leg wound of the First World War is being treated in a Columbus hospital, preventing his attendance.

Tents have been set up on farms. The Licking county sheriff's office and the state highway patrol are set up to handle the crowd, large or small.

Extra light and telephone wires were strung during the past week for concessionaries and workers. The Army loaned field communications equipment and jeeps to haul reporters and radio men over the field. Airplanes are on tap at a field a short distance away.

Bill Meyer Named Manager of Pirates

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Bill Meyer, who piloted Kansas City to the American association pennant this year, was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates today, succeeding the resigned Billy Herman.

At the same time General Manager Roy Hamey of the Pirates announced that Hank Greenberg, erstwhile home run slugger of the club, had been given his unconditional release at the player's request.

Hamey, who was general manager of the Kansas City club when Meyer managed there in 1938 through 1941, said that the contract Meyer signed was for two years and at the highest salary ever given a Pirate boss.

Meyer will have complete control on the field, Hamey said, declaring that "we wanted an experienced manager like Meyer to be in charge during our rebuilding process."

The Pirate general manager said he did not know what Greenberg planned for the future. The unconditional release would be effective tomorrow, he said, when all the papers would be signed.

Meyer, one-time catcher, has been in the New York Yankee chain for the past 15 years and has won pennants wherever he bossed.

Greenberg came to the Pirates early this spring on waivers in one of the greatest of all pre-season surprises.

This year he played first base for the Pirates at a salary reputed to approach $75,000 but failed to regain his old form and finished the season far below his young teammate, Ralph Kiner, who got 51 homers.

Monday Accident Victim Succumbs at Crestline

By The Associated Press

Three other persons including the woman's husband, Rev. Robert Smelzer, were injured. The Smelzers were enroute to Titusville, Pa., where Mr. Smelzer was to become pastor of the Titusville Church of Christ.

Morris Pertofsky, 22, of New York, driver of the other car, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court in Mansfield on a charge of driving on more than one-half of the highway.

Drive for U. S. Self-Rationing Opens in Effort To Aid Europe

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—President Truman's drive for American "self-rationing" to head off starvation in Europe went into high gear today amid hints that the administration may take more drastic action if necessary.

Leon Henderson, wartime boss of prices and rationing, denounced the President's "buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing" program as one which "falls tragically short of the demands of a world crisis."

He asked that congress be convened and food rationing resumed quickly.

And Secretary of Commerce Harriman indicated that rationing and price controls are not yet out of the picture. He told the citizens food committee at its first meeting yesterday that the savings of 100,000,000 bushels of grain asked by Mr. Truman may be too little for western Europe's needs.

70 Million More Asked

"I think you will find," Harriman said, "that something like 70,000,000 bushels more than that is really required to do an adequate job."

The presidential committee on aid for Europe which the secretary of commerce heads decided not to recommend rationing or price control.

Calling it "an adventure in democracy," Harriman forecast success for the giant conservation campaign announced last night by Charles Luckman, the 38-year-old soap manufacturer who was picked by Mr. Truman to head the citizens' committee.

President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall will broadcast a nationwide appeal on the four major networks at 10:30 p. m. Sunday. This will open what Luckman, at a news conference last night, described as an "all-media" campaign—including newspapers, billboards, radio, movies and magazines—to spread these slogans over the land:

"Buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing"—especially grain, meat, eggs and poultry; and "don't start the next war in your garbage can."

No Meatless Days

There were no "meatless Mondays" or "eggless Wednesdays" in the Luckman program, and he emphasized that Americans are not supposed to "eat less" but to buy less of the scarce foods, more of the plentiful foods and waste no food at all.

"The arsenal of democracy," he said, "must now become the granary of the world, or we shall bury our hopes for peace with those who died to preserve it."

For housewives he laid down simple rules:

1. Buy the cheaper cuts. 2. Don't serve too much—and don't urge people to take "seconds." 3. Don't overcook meat, because that shrinks it. 4. Use leftovers. 5. Save wheat in every possible way—particularly by going easy on poultry and dairy products because it takes grain to feed chickens and cows.

FLORIDANS BRACE FOR TIDE

By The Associated Press

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla., Oct. 2—Beach front residents prepared for another high tide today and hoped the strong winds and heavy surf which have battered the coast line since last weekend would abate by nightfall without doing further damage.

Alert Waitress Saves Man's Life

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Oct. 2—The alertness of a restaurant waitress here was credited this morning with saving the life of Clyde E. Acton of Kenton, an employe of the Wilco Co.

Acton was found slumped over the wheel of his car unconscious from monoxide fumes by Miss Helen Lambert, a waitress at the White Front Restaurant on South Main street, when enroute to work at 8:30 a. m. today.

Miss Lambert noticed the motor running on the car parked in front of the restaurant, and upon seeing Acton slumped over, she notified patrons in the restaurant.

Police were summoned and Acton was rushed in the police cruiser to McKitrick hospital where oxygen was administered. Hospital authorities report his condition to be rapidly improving.

TO CLEAR LAND FOR DELAWARE RESERVOIR

Opening of Bids Scheduled for Tomorrow.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Oct. 2—Bids for clearing land in the Olentangy conservancy dam area near Delaware will be opened at the district office of the Army Engineers at Huntington, W. Va., Friday and work is expected to start this winter if an acceptable proposal is made and a contract executed.

Approximately 1,400 acres immediately north of the dam is involved in the project and estimates of the cost range from $50,000 to $150,000. About 300 acres in the reservoir site are described as heavily wooded and the contract will call for removal of all trees and shrubbery in the 1,400-acre tract.

Work on the dam is proceeding on schedule and the structure is expected to be completed late in December. Approximately 10 feet of the concrete remains to be poured on the west side and considerable work involved in carrying the main dyke to the west abutment still remains.

Engineers said this week that several months will be required to place the dam in operating condition and that the reservoir will not be filled until sometime next summer.

COMPANY AND UNION AGREE

Reach Settlement in Dispute After Two-Day Conference of Officials.

Employes of the McMillen Feed Mills went back to work today. Settlement of the six-week-old strike was effected yesterday afternoon following a two-day conference between company officials and UAW-CIO representatives.

Plant manager William Charle estimated that normal production schedules would be reached in about two weeks. The union committee and the plant management will cooperate in calling employes back to work as rapidly as operating conditions permit.

Three divisions were back on the job today. They were the elevator staff, employes in the expeller division and the maintenance and repair division. The balance of the company's 85 production workers are expected to be called back as soon as feed processing and other operations are re-activated after the six-week suspension of operations.

Union Approves Agreement

Final approval of the agreement reached yesterday afternoon was given by Local 750 of the UAW last night at a membership meeting held in the union hall in East Center street, when changes in the contract between the company and the UAW were ratified by the membership.

Major points in the agreement includes a boost of ten cents in the basic hourly wage rate for employes. This amount is taken from the 25 cent per hour cost of living increase granted workers in March on a temporary basis. Also included is an upward revision of the consumer price index on which the cost of living hike was based. The agreement provides for basing the increase on the consumer index figure 141.1 rather than the 131.1 figure now used. A third point in the agreement provides that the restriction as to the duration of the cost of living increase now in effect be deleted from the contract. The restriction limited the cost of living pay hike until such time as the consumer price index drops to 121.1.

The conferences terminating the strike were conducted amicably, according to Lynn W. Berman, industrial relations head for the Central Soya company. The conferences were adjurned with good feeling by both the company officials and the UAW in the atmosphere of "letting bygones be bygones."

The UAW, however, is still voicing resentment over the way the Marion police, according to union allegations, "roughed up" pickets during the flurry of violence at the plant last weekend. Union officials reported today that they had not abandoned intentions of filing suit against the city police. No indication was given as to when the suit would be filed.

Four persons were taken into custody by police, and all fined $100 each for violation of the court restraining order prohibiting interference with company employes.

Accepting Shipments

Robert Fletcher, company president, said today that McMillen Feed Mills will buy soybeans and is prepared to accept shipments as soon as they come in. First truckloads from this area are expected to arrive within a few days as farmers will begin cutting soon. Early hard frosts have brought on the bean season, Mr. Fletcher said.

Conveyor System About Ready

Work on the new conveyor system at the plant is virtually completed and is expected to be ready for full operation within two or three days.

Other work, including scheduled improvements held up by the strike will be resumed as soon as possible, Mr. Charle reported. These include installation of an automatic sprinkler system, a new boiler and improving the appearance of the plant. The sprinkler system in process of installation for about three months prior to the strike is expected to be completed in the near future, now that the men are back on the job, it was said.

Union's Statement

The UAW in a statement released today through Orville Beemer, international representative, calling the settlement "fair and acceptable to both parties" had this to say concerning police action:

"We do not retreat from our position that the City police department and the administration

...who is ready at all times ...a knuckle in its defense ...is E. P. Adler, who has spent more than 62 years in the newspaper business and reached the conclusion that the American press has a better life expectancy than its critics.

Hal Boyle

"Newspapers are as firm in the people's minds as ever," ...said this week on his sev...th birthday anniversary ...are continuing to improve ...have in days gone by. ...ey are more read than ...ever were."

...people are in a better po... to note the changes in the ...per field than this small, ...ry, white-haired publisher. ...n career has symbolized ...

Began as "Devil"

He began as a "printer's devil," ...around the midwest as a ...printer in the golden age ...that craft, then switched to ...the reportorial and business side. ...he is president of the Lee ...ate, which publishes 11 ...papers in Iowa, Wisconsin, ...Missouri and Nebraska.

...Adler is a nationally known ...in the small city news... field—a dean who never ...to become dean emeritus.

When he went to work before ...thirteenth birthday his start... weekly wage was zero minus ...—his father paid a print... dollar each week to teach ...E. P. how to set type. ...papers were small, handset, ...on flatbed presses, and ...news coverage of events ...their immediate communi... was generally poor.

Saw Technique Changed

"The invention of the web press and the linotype, the development of press associations and wirephoto, changed all that," Adler recalled.

"At my age you tend to live in the past. But there is really no comparison. Newspapers of today are wonderful—so different from those of earlier days. The news and picture coverage is more complete in every way."

Adler is optimistic over the future of the American newspaper and feels that radio, television and facsimile transmission "will never run them out of business."

"All a newspaperman has to do is to put out a good newspaper—print the real news—and he'll sell his newspaper all right," he said.

Sees No Death for Freedom

"Freedom of the press is one of the strong points of America. I believe there still is freedom of the press, and I believe there always will be.

"I see no threat to newspapers except rising costs which must be met by raising the delivery price and the rates for advertising space. But there must be an end to this problem of rising costs sometime—not only for newspapers, but for every other business."

Adler still rises at 6 a. m., walks a mile and a half to his office every morning. Pleased but not overwhelmed by a flood of congratulatory telegrams on reaching 75, he answered those who asked his success formula in one word — perhaps the least popular four-letter word in the language:

"Work. Work has been my most fun in life. It still is."

Woman Sentenced To State Reformatory

Miss Patricia Lee Nunley, 23, of Chicago was committed to the Ohio state reformatory for women at Marysville Wednesday after being found guilty by Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

She was arrested by police in Marion Sept. 21 and held for investigation until Sept. 29 when the complaint was filed. She was charged with inducing a 16-year-old Chicago girl to leave her home without consent of her parents.

Judge Ruzzo ordered the girl returned to the custody of the Cook county juvenile court, Chicago.

An Extra Bushel

A BUSHEL of grain, the amount each American is supposed to save to meet the Truman administration's schedule for helping Europe, is in addition to the three-odd bushels each American was going to send abroad anyway.

A bushel in dry measure, incidentally, contains 2,150.42 cubic inches, approximately the space that would be occupied if all the big talk out of Washington about helping Europe were converted into confetti and stored in one place.

The way the grain-saving campaign is supposed to work is for each citizen to quit wasting grain. If a citizen isn't wasting any, he should write directly to the White House or the grain-saving committee, care of the White House, and find out what he can do. For instance, he might shoot all the pigeons he can find, then the pigeons wouldn't eat any more grain, and he himself could eat pigeon pie instead of cracklies for breakfast. Meanwhile, the government will buy grain directly for export without waiting to see how all this turns out.

In other words, while no one begrudges Europeans the grain, why must there be so much malarkey about giving it to them?

Let 'Em Rave

MOSCOW'S literary gazette recently published a highly uncomplimentary article about President Truman which brought a sharp protest from Ambassador Smith. Foreign Minister Molotov's reply now gives a tipoff as to what the Russian line will be on such matters in the future. He said that "the Soviet government cannot bear the responsibility for this or that article and, so much the more, cannot accept the protest."

The Russians now would have us believe the Kremlin isn't responsible for what appears in the Russian press; this despite the fact that Tass News Agency is as much a government mouthpiece as was Hitler's DNB News Agency. But let that go.

It is futile to become engaged in word wars with the Russians. Protests aren't going to do any good in view of Molotov's disclaimer of responsibility.

The American press may have occasion to point out Vishinsky's Menshevik background; the petty bourgeois heritage of Zaslavsky, the Russian press bellwether, and the Trotzkyite background of some Russian leaders who turned their coats just in time. In return we may expect vilification copied out of Voelkischer Beobachter, the newspaper of Hitler, their former ally. The important thing is to consider the source and not fight shadows by engaging in fishwife brawls with Russians. Let 'em rant and rave; it's good for their lungs.

Clearing Pittsburgh's Skies

WEARY of being called the world's smokiest city, Pittsburgh had drafted a smoke control ordinance more drastic than any city's. Over powerful opposition from bituminous coal interests, it has placed in force a law which allows the sale of soft coal only to factories and homes equipped to burn such coal without smoke. Others must use anthracite, coke or other fuels.

A staff of 13 inspectors and a five-man board of appeals are enforcing the ordinance. Classes in firing are being held for householders and janitors. Tired of the ancient wheeze about people never coming clean from Pittsburgh, the city is doing something about it.

Pittsburgh, in the middle of one of the world's great soft coal areas, has taken a courageous step to clear its air. Other cities which have smoke control ordinances but do nothing to enforce them will watch Pittsburgh's efforts with interest.

Correction

IN A RECENT editorial commenting on the high-policy decision to retire Postmaster General Hannegan from his other job as chairman of the Democratic national committee, this newspaper noted that Gael Sullivan, the committee's executive director, also was going to be retired. Basis for this hopeful statement was an announcement that Sullivan had submitted his resignation.

It now turns out that the resignation subsequently was withdrawn. Sullivan will stay on the job. Therefore, our comment that Sullivan was going to be given a chance "to put his feet in his mouth in some less conspicuous place than Democratic national headquarters" must be corrected. Until further notice, Sullivan will be putting his feet in his mouth in Democratic national headquarters, site of some of the most incredible performances of foot-eating ever witnessed in national politics.

Did You Know

Vermont was admitted into the Union in 1791.

In 1770, a bill was brought before the British Parliament which made null and void any marriage where the young wife had intrigued her husband into marriage through the use of scents, paints and cosmetic washes.

Morgenthau Tells His Story

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Reveals Another Unhappy Roosevelt Associate.

WE are beginning to get, in magazines and books, stories of the unhappy people around Roosevelt. These sad reminiscences provide an extraordinary denial of a popular Roosevelt myth. He was the nation's idea of a happy man in the days before the threat of war appeared. The cabinet and administration were billed as a joyous team, successful in elections and united in faith.

Some of us who, although we were outsiders, were in the confidence of insiders, knew better. Sharp divisions on policy and method ran all the way through the cabinet and the rank and file of the administration. Personal ambitions were at cross purposes. And the president himself was manifesting, to an increasing degree, those periods of malevolent humor which those who knew him grew to recognize.

Now elements of the true picture are beginning to appear. We are hearing from some of those who suffered Promethean agonies. Even in Frances Perkins' long hymn of praise there were moments when Madam Secretary had to stop to take breath, and little glimpses of a not-too-happy appraisal of the boss appeared. James A. Farley has laid it on the line with a frank tale of deceit and misunderstanding. Perhaps we shall later hear from Cordell Hull about how the president was always talking with people in the state department over the secretary's head.

Henry's Unhappiness

But Henry Morgenthau Jr.'s Diaries, now appearing in Collier's, are most unexpectedly unhappy. Although I happened to know that the secretary of the treasury in those years from 1935 to 1939 was having troubles, I never guessed that he would tell them. But tell them he has, and, withal, he has done a good job at it.

The moral, as far as the self-revelation of Morgenthau is concerned, is that no matter how loyal and humble a follower might be, the capricious Roosevelt found a way of hurting that poor fellow and of demanding more than loyalty and humility could give.

The two Morgenthau articles already published describe the battle within the New Deal over budget balancing. There is no doubt that Morgenthau entertained conservative convictions on finance. He wanted to balance the budget. But there was growing up in the administration a group which was equally convinced that government should spend more than it took in. In 1935 a battle royal ensued over the Patman soldier bonus bill. Roosevelt had decided to veto this bill, but the issue was whether he would express his disapproval in so powerful a fashion as really to kill it. Morgenthau points out how he helped convince Roosevelt that he should not only disapprove but kill the bill.

Victory Short-Lived

But Morgenthau won a hollow victory, for the following year Roosevelt offered only perfunctory opposition to the bonus. The spending boys had won.

That was Roosevelt's way with Morgenthau. He would toss out a concession to sound finance, and the next day he would be consorting with Morgenthau's rivals.

In 1937 and 1938 the battle went on. As the recession of those years continued, Roosevelt went over to the spending boys. But he permitted Morgenthau to give public protestations of devotion to sound finance. Then Morgenthau brought his protests almost to the point of resignation. He describes in detail the Roosevelt technique in such cases. At first, it was banter; then ridicule; then rather clumsy but angry asperity; then an exposition of the tragedy which might ensue if the follower failed to swallow his hurt and his convictions.

It was a tough service, but apparently a lot of people found it better than a good job in competitive private employment.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

At last we are getting attention to our many domestic problems . . . . Washington is taking a strong stand for doing nothing.

* * *

Mr. Truman passed up his golden opportunity to call a special session of congress . . . . Probably this will give Moscow a headline reading, "Truman Again Shows Self to be Dictator."

* * *

Even Republicans were incensed by the Soviet comparison of the President with Hitler and when Republicans get angry about what happens to a Democrat it is time for caution.

* * *

Anyway, there will be no special session until there is a solution for that other grave domestic problem—which is the better team, Yanks or Dodgers?

* * *

I hear the Russians are quite interested in our umpire system . . . . They're studying it for use in connection with arguing the right to veto.

* * *

And one was heard to say, "You criticize our politics but who is this Commissar Chandler everyone bows to?"

Reds' Withdrawal No. 1 Goal

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AT the root of Mr. X's philosophy about Russian-American relations and underlying all the ideas of the Truman doctrine there is a disbelief in the possibility of a settlement of the issues by this war.

Having observed, I believed quite correctly, that we cannot expect "to enjoy political intimacy with the Soviet regime," and that we must "regard the Soviet Union as a rival, not a partner in the political arena," and that "there can be no appeal to common purpose," Mr. X has reached the conclusion that all we can do is to "contain" Russia until Russia changes, ceases to be our rival, and becomes our partner.

The conclusions, it seems to me, are quite unwarranted. The history of diplomacy is the history of relations among rival powers, which did not enjoy political intimacy, and did not respond to appeals to common purposes.

Nevertheless, there have been settlements. For a diplomat to think that rival and unfriendly powers cannot be brought to a settlement is to forget what diplomacy is about. There would be little for diplomats to do if the world consisted of partners, enjoying political intimacy, and responding to common appeals.

Diplomatic Methods

The method by which diplomacy deals with a world where there are rival powers is to organize a balance of power which deprives the rivals, however lacking in intimacy and however unresponsive to common appeals, of a good prospect of successful aggression.

That is what a diplomat means by the settlement of a conflict among rival powers. He does not mean that they will cease to be rivals. He does not mean that they will all be converted to thinking and wanting the same things. He means that, whatever they think, whatever they want, whatever their ideological purposes, the balance of power is such that they cannot afford to commit aggression.

In our conflict with Russia, a policy of settlement—as I have sought to show—would aim to redress the balance of power, which is abnormal and dangerous, because the Red Army has met the British and American armies in the heart of Europe.

The division between East and West is at that military boundary line. The meeting of those armies caused the division. No state in eastern Europe can be independent of the Kremlin as long as the Red Army is within it and all around it. No state in western Europe is independent while it is in effect in the rear of this military frontier. The presence of these non-European armies in the continent of Europe perpetuates the division of Europe.

The Soviet government has been communist for 30 years. For more than 100 years all Russian governments have sought to expand over eastern Europe. But only since the Red Army reached the Elbe river have the rulers of Russia been able to realize the ambitions of the Russian Empire and the ideological purposes of communism.

Basis of Settlement

A genuine policy would, therefore, have as its paramount objective a settlement which brought about the evacuation of Europe. That is the settlement which will settle the issue which has arisen out of the war. The communists will continue to be communists.

The Russians will continue to be Russians. But if the Red Army is in Russia, and not on the Elbe, the power of the Russian communists and the power of the Russian imperialists to realize their ambitions will have been reduced decisively.

Until a settlement which results in withdrawal is reached, the Red Army in the center of Europe will control eastern Europe and will threaten western Europe. In these circumstances American power must be available, not to "contain" the Russians at scattered points, but to hold the whole Russian military machine in check, and to exert a mounting pressure in support of a diplomatic policy which has as its concrete objective a settlement that means withdrawal.

Then we shall know what we are trying to do. The Russians will know it. Europe will know it. We shall be trying to do a great thing which is simple and necessary: To settle the main actual consequences of this particular war, to put an end to the abnormal situation where Europe, one of the chief centers of civilization, though liberated from the Nazis, is still occupied by its non-European liberators.

We shall be addressing ourselves to an objective to which our own power is suited—be it in diplomacy or in war. We shall be seeking an end that all men can understand, and one which expresses faithfully our oldest and best tradition—to be the friend and the champion of nations seeking independence and an end to the rule of alien powers.

Blood, sweat and tears must pay for sins and mistakes of the past. We all inherit the fruit of such sacrifice. We may not be bothered by our sins, but Christ died to save us from them: "This is my blood, which is shed for many, for the remission of sins." —Matt. 26.28.

Decline and Fall

By STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—With infinite reluctance, the President and the congressional leaders have taken the first hesitating steps towards dealing with the crisis abroad. It now seems possible that a bare minimum of the necessary dollars will be forthcoming. But dollars are only half the problem. Dollars are not edible. That is why, in moments of gloom, those close to the Washington scene are sometimes tempted to suspect that some future gibbon, industriously compiling his "decline and fall of the United States," might write as follows:

Many causes have been advanced for the extraordinary events which occurred in the middle years of the twentieth century. Yet a close study of the contemporary records leads the honest historian inescapably to the conclusion that the United States (together with western civilization as a whole) was destroyed by reason of the inordinate appetite of the American people for meat.

To satisfy this appetite, hardly less than 90 million tons of grain were fed to beasts and fowls in the year 1947-48. Had the Americans been able to divert no more than three or four million of these tons of grain to the feeding of the famished peoples of Europe, the disaster which shortly overcame the United States might clearly have been averted. It is a remarkable fact that the American leaders, or at least the most powerful and informed amongst them, were wholly alive to this crucial importance of a few million tons of grain. Yet they were, or believed themselves to be, powerless to act.

Dependent On U. S.

Difficult as it now is to credit, the area then known as the United States was at that time wealthy, populous, and enormously productive. So industrious were its people, and so vast its natural riches, that the country emerged from the second German war more prosperous than it had ever been before. By contrast the nations of western Europe had been crippled by the long conflict. The governments of those nations were reduced to reliance on the United States for wheat with which to feed their population, and coal with which to sustain their manufactures.

Since the end of the war the Soviet Union, now also a wasteland, but then second in power and resources only to the United States, had been attempting by every means to extend its area of power and influence. The chief instrument to this end was the international Communist parties, directed from Moscow. In 1947, these parties were exerting all their energies to seize control of the nations of western Europe, and particularly of France and Italy. They found an ally in the western European weather. Following a disastrous harvest, it became evident by the autumn of 1947 that the French and Italian people were menaced with starvation in the approaching winter months.

Amazing Statement

It was clear to the American leaders that unless something were done, this circumstance would lead to Communist, and thus Soviet control of all Europe. The foreign policy of the United States, for evident strategic reasons, had been shaped to avert precisely this end. Thus it is with amazement that the historian comes upon the announcement of an American official, known as "The Secretary of Agriculture," in the month of September, 1947. This official, named Clinton Anderson, announced at that time that exports of grains to Europe must necessarily be reduced. Whereas 15 million tons of grain had been shipped to Europe and elsewhere in the preceding year, this amount must be decreased to approximately 12 million tons. Little short of 90 million tons was to be fed to the beasts, to satisfy the American appetite for meat.

It is with a sense of wonder also that one reads the opinions credited to Anderson in certain reputable journals of the day. Anderson was said to have informed the President of the United States that neither the congress nor the people would approve such "extreme measures" as a reduction in the size of the bread loaf, a limitation in the feeding of wheat to animals, or a decrease in the use of grain for manufacture of spirituous liquors, copiously consumed in the United States in those days. Thus, although the congress was asked to approve such sums as were needed by the European countries to purchase the necessary foodstuffs, no serious measures, other than an appeal for self-restraint, were taken to assure that these foodstuffs would be available. Not unexpectedly this appeal, in time of peace, was largely fruitless.

"Plan" Discarded

The inevitable political and economic chaos in Europe thus supervened, with the inevitable consequences. A now forgotten doctrine then known as the "Marshall Plan," which had been designed to save the situation, had to be discarded. The United States soon found itself a continental island, set in the midst of a vast Soviet-dominated ocean. No opportunity for a final peaceful settlement between the Soviets and the Americans, other than a peace of surrender, remained. The consequences were inescapable.

One mystery will always remain to plague the speculative historian. The American people had demonstrated a conspicuous moral fiber during the war years. Had some sudden cancer destroyed the temper of the people, so that they need must feed 90 million tons of grain to their beasts that they might eat heartily of choice meats, while the Europeans starved for lack of three million tons of grain? Or did the American leaders misjudge and undervalue the character of that now vanishing race?

Smoke from burning poison ivy can carry enough poison to be harmful.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letters for Special Delivery

HONORABLE HARRY S. TRUMAN
President of the United States

DEAR HARRY:

Your appeals to the American people to easy on the feeding are models of good craftsmanship in the framing of messages, but I think you would pitch them on a higher plane than the garbage pail and get a little more warmth into them. Your line "I would ask the people to eat less rather than eat less" is not enough. You never make the garbage can a symbol of a moral obligation.

* * *

The American people are the best fed race on the face of the earth and compared to many of other people they shape up like contestants in a barbecue. I am not saying that there are not many Americans who are having a tough struggle. There are plenty of folks in this city who can't eat less without starving, but there they are greatly outnumbered by the "second-helping and all-white-meat" Americans who are the ones who can help more in the food crisis.

These extra-sized napkin folks who manage to make every meal a good one and who insist on the best cuts and the most gravy are a fine target. Their name is legion. But they have to spend less time with their noses in the feed trough and you will never reach them by any weasel words or by nolding, that "waste less" is a far more effective than "eat less."

* * *

Anybody who has ever seen the American heavy eater at work knows he doesn't waste much. In fact you can look in the glass fronted windows of a million restaurants and see him even trying to do away with the steak bone and the paper around the lamb chop.

* * *

Oh, yes, there used to be a lot of waste in the American kitchen and there is too much elsewhere now, but this business of rescuing the starving peoples of the earth, bringing a restoration of brotherly love and preventing another global war has got to be linked up with self denial, Christian charity and love of one's fellow man. Just tying it up with a mere careful conservation of what goes into the garbage these days won't do.

* * *

Less emphasis on committees and more on the parable of the Good Samaritan and the Sermon on the Mount will help, Harry.

* * *

Somewhere from some American leader there must come an appeal to the people in which the Ten Commandments bury the tactics in the 1948 presidential campaign.

* * *

The American people have always been a big hearted folk alive to the teaching that "the greatest of those is charity." They're ready to help now. All they need is a few remarks based in a level far above the swill bucket.

Yours truly,
ELMER.

PLIGHT OF AN AMERICAN IN A WORLD CRISIS

His heart lacked no pity;

And got a COMMITTEE!

Charley Luckman, whirlwind head of Lever Brothers, soap manufacturer, has been named chief of the President's committee charged with directing the drive to get Americans to be a little more careful about food. This is not, of course, to imply that there is any danger of anyone crying "Let them eat CAKES!"

* * *

If Mr. Luckman wants a few slogans, he's about "When you refuse a second helping you give a hungry child a FIRST helping."

That robot or pushbutton plane that crosses the Atlantic is a wonderful thing, but what it need is some developments of the idea so it can be affixed to a man trying to cross a street in traffic.

Typical Monday

By TRUMAN TWILL

This is being written on Monday. It has been raining off and on all day. The week is getting off to a lame start. The usual number of people have complained that it's a typical Monday, meaning their affairs have gone haywire.

All over the country there is this same feeling that something's wrong with Monday. A hundred and how many million people can't be wrong. Something is wrong with Monday and something needs to be done about it.

The remedy is obvious. Monday should be eliminated as a day of responsibility for the human race, which isn't up to dealing with it. It should become a day of brooding, meditation and helping with the family washing.

The trouble with Monday is that it occurs after Sunday, a day on which most people escape from the routine of responsibility by going to church, for a ride, to visit relatives, or stayed in bed. They break training, so to speak, and pay for it on Monday.

In many cases, the limited work week begins what it is, they began to break training as early as Saturday. Their work week reaches its climax on Friday. In a few lush jobs, pursuit of the dollar is so successful that even Friday is the beginning of the weekend.

Getting back into harness on Monday is an awkward business of adjusting belly-bands, crupper straps and shortening traces—mysteries that aren't even understood by people who never served as valet to a horse. The transition is too sudden after so long a layoff.

That's why Monday should be a day of brooding and meditation, to ease the transition from the weekend to the workaday world, as it is called by persons with a heavy-footed sense of humor. At the other end, the work week should be extended through Saturday, as it used to be in the days when psychiatrists would rate starved to death in this country.

Monday would cease to be a day of horror and become popular. People would quit talking about blue Monday and complaining that their affairs are haywire. The work week would start on Tuesday which has the advantage of being much closer to the end of the week and therefore wouldn't seem so gloomy as Monday.

Like all proposals for the advancement of civilization which appear in this space, this one is free. There are no strings attached. People that want to reform the calendar and are getting nowhere would be well advised to take this up. They should start on something they can manage, like reforming a work week that has made Monday an abomination in the sight of mankind.

Engineer Sponsors Church Program

WORCESTER, Mass. — A Worcester locomotive engineer swapped his cab for a pulpit to encourage other Protestant laymen to take an active part in church work.

Engineer Roy M. Wilder of the Boston and Albany Railroad shuttled between Hadwen Park and Bethany Congregational Churches to preach on "logic and religion."

"Laymen are like a locomotive engine," Wilder commented after the Sunday services. "If they both a lot of time to get up steam. "Once they do, they have a lot of power."

Marion Couple Exchange Vows In Salem Church

SALEM Evangelical and Reformed church was scene of the wedding Sunday of Miss Rose Mary Kurz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kurz of 379 Commercial street, and James Sinning, son of Mrs. Fred Sinning of 310 Reed avenue. The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:30 p. m. by the pastor, Rev. Emil C. Klutey. The custom of open church was observed. Mr. Kurz gave his daughter in marriage. The bride had chosen to be married in the same church in which her parents were married 23 years ago next month, and a reception following the wedding was held in the C. G. Roecker home on South Main street. The wedding reception for her parents was held at the Roecker home. Mr. Roecker is a great uncle of the bride, an uncle of her mother.

At the church, decorations included baskets of white gladioli, containers of fern and candelabra.

Organ numbers preceding the ceremony, played by Mrs. Helen Eibling Crandall, were "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert; "Thine Alone," Herbert; "I Love You Truly," Bond; "Always," Berlin; "Indian Love Call," Friml, "Oh Promise Me," DeKoven; "Salut D'Amour," traditional wedding marches. Miss Mary Queen sang "Through the Years" and "Because."

The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice of nylon over taffeta, sheer yoke outlined by a deep ruffle, tapering sleeves and full overskirt of marquisette over taffeta, ending in a circular train. Her veil was that worn by a friend, Mrs. Betty Burgner Smith of Galion, for her wedding. The bridal bouquet was of white gladioli centered with a purple orchid and showered with white satin ribbon in which sprigs of plumosis were caught.

Miss Mary Ellen Middleton was maid of honor. Her gown was in a yellow shade. Misses Phyllis Gorenflo and Mary Alice Obenour bridesmaids, were in aqua. Miss Jean Ann Roecker, cousin of the bride, and Miss Loretta Foster of Mt. Gilead, the candlelighters, were in pastel pink. Their gowns were identical in style and were fashioned on similar lines to those of the bride's gown. All were made by another friend of the bride, Mrs. Francis Davis. The maid of honor carried a colonial bouquet which held a peach glamellia and bronze pompons showered with bronze ribbon, the bridesmaids' bouquets were of yellow glamellias and bronze pompons showered with bronze ribbon, and the candlelighters' flowers were corsages of glamellias and Bagdad gladioli.

Mrs. Kurz wore a dress of aqua with black accessories, and Mrs. Sinning's dress was a grape shade. She wore an ice pink hat. Each wore a camellia-flowered tuberous begonia corsage.

Best man was Karl Kurz, brother of the bride, and ushers were Harold Wade, cousin of the bridegroom, and Richard Bender.

Her two tiered veil was of bridal illusion and her bouquet was of white roses centered with a pink glamelia and showered with white and pink satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Earl Simmons, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in a blue taffeta gown with a corsage of white gladioli centered with blue delphinium.

Earl Simmons, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Gale Simmons and James Park. They also lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ransome chose a gray dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white carnations. Mrs. Simmons was attired in a green suit with gray accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Harold Winters, organist. Her selections included "Clair de Lune," "Wanting You," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Serenade," and the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. Margaret Cowgill sang "I Love You Truly," "Oh Promise Me," "The Lord's Prayer," and "Because." During the ceremony, Mrs. Winters played "The Dream of Love."

A reception at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centering the bride's table. Serving were Mrs. Abram Ransome, Mrs. Benjajmin Ransome, Miss Emily Kile, Mrs. Ruby Temple, Mrs. Nellie Hatcher, Mrs. Melvin Berry, Mrs. Guy Newhouse, Miss Jean Coolie and Mrs. Robert Park.

When the couple left on a wedding trip through the east and New England states, Mrs. Simmons was wearing a blue wool jersey dress with brown accessories and the glamella from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home on South Franklin street in Richwood.

Shields of Marion. The double ceremony was read at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in Trinity Lutheran church at Crestline, by the pastor, Rev. Rennix Van Scoy, in the presence of the immediate families. The only decorations in the church were the lighted candles on the altar.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Swope entertained with a dinner at Hotel Harding for the wedding party and families. Mr. and Mrs. Layton will make their home at 599 Oak street and Mr. and Mrs. Shields will live at 201 Marion avenue. The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin styled with a basque waist and leg o'mutton sleeves. The skirt extended into a circular train. Her fingertip length veil of illusion edged with cathedral chantilly lace was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and bugle beads, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a gardenia and showered with satin streamers.

Tourists Attracted To 'Crusoe's Island'

TOBAGO, B.W.I.—The airplane is spurring a tourist invasion of Tobago, little-known Caribbean island Daniel Defoe is said to have written about in his children's classic "Robinson Crusoe."

With only 100 whites living on an island that supports a 27,000 population, Tobago had remained relatively undiscovered as a Caribbean resort until Pan American World Airways started flying passengers down from New York and Miami.

Tobago is the least expensive of Caribbean resorts. Hotels (there are two) cost $4.25 a day for room with bath, three meals plus the British high tea. Cars can be rented at $2 an hour, horses at 85 cents for a morning. But facilities are slightly primitive.

When the lights go out, homes and hotels call the Anglican archdeacon, the only man on the island who can fix a balky generator. The archdeacon gives such prompt service that he usually arrives in his long black robes.

Denison Freshman Girl Wounds Self Critically

DENNISON, O., Oct. 2—Jayne Parker, 19, a freshman at Denison university in Granville was in serious condition at City hospital today with a self-inflicted bullet wound below the heart.

Mayor Tom Hayes of Gnadenhutten said the girl shot herself with a revolver while visiting her mother, a bank clerk, in the Gnadenhutten bank Tuesday.

Hayes said he understood the girl had been forced to leave college because of ill health. The revolver, he explained, was kept in the bank for protection against robbers.

Family Tombstone Memorializes Dog

By International News Service

CLINTON, N. C.—The Clinton cemetery bears eloquent testimony to the love of a man for a dog.

In the family plot of J. C. Hubbard is buried a pet dog, "Trixie." The grave is marked with a $75 marble slab like the graves of the other members of the Hubbard family.

An inscription on the slab reads: "Trixie—the dearest, sweetest, and most affectionate friend we ever had."

Hubbard had a special casket made for "Trixie" when she died, and all her playthings were put inside.

"Trixie" came into Hubbard's possession in 1933 when she was left at a local ice plant by a motorist.

Hubbard ran advertisements in an attempt to locate the owner. But no one claimed "Trixie."

So Hubbard took her home and she was treated like one of the family. She never left the house unless accompanied by a member of the family. Now she has an immortal place in Clinton cemetery.

CHILDREN'S HOME AT GALION QUARANTINED

Illness of Child Diagnosed as Diphtheria.

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 2—As the result of a severe case of diphtheria, the Crawford county children's home, located at the west edge of Galion, is under quarantine. Fifty-three children and the 10 members of the staff of the home were quarantined Wednesday by City Health Commissioner O. R. Kackley after he diagnosed the illness of Fern Snavely, 12, Bucyrus, a ward of the Crawford county juvenile court, as diphtheria. She was stricken, Tuesday. The girl was brought to the home about a week before from Vickery, O., Sandusky county, after she ran away from a private home in which she had been placed. She was taken to University hospital in Columbus Wednesday afternoon.

Assisted by Galion nurses and physicians, Dr. Kackley supervised immunization of the children and staff at the home Wednesday. Because the girl was isolated immediately, Monday, when she complained of a cold, Marvin Adams, superintendent of the home, did not feel the other children were in great danger of getting the disease.

If no other case develops at the home after five days, the quarantine will be lifted. Dr. Kackley explained that it takes from three to seven days for a diphtheria case to develop from time of exposure. He did not believe that wholesale immunization of Galion school children would be necessary.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Walls Wet and Moldy

Q: We have lived in our apartment for six years and never had this trouble before. But this year the outside walls get wet and moldy. The closet gets so wet that the water runs down and forms moss. The window sills are always green with moss and the baseboards get moldy. The ceilings and walls above and below the windows get wet and moldy. I wonder if you could tell me what is causing this and how we can correct or help the condition.

A: I make the guess that during the past six years cracks have formed around window frames and other places that are causing leaks. It is also possible that the outside walls are porous, so that water is absorbed and held. I also believe that there is no storm sash or weatherstripping on the windows to prevent condensation of the warm, damp air on the glass. If the outside walls are brick, it may be necessary to do a repointing job between the bricks, and also give the walls a coat or two of a cement base paint containing a waterproofing compound. If you are burning gas or oil in open, unvented room heaters, this would be another factor in the case. Such burners should be connected to a vent or chimney to carry the vapors of combustion outdoors. A leaflet on condensation and dampness is being sent to you.

• • •

Grain of Wood Showing

Q: My solid oak dinette set has a white finish with the grain of wood showing through. I wish to do it over to get the same effect. Can you advise?

A: If the set is not too near the kitchen, so there is no fire hazard, you can take off the old finish with paint remover. This will soften the finish so that you can scrape and wipe it off. Follow by thoroughly cleaning off with turpentine to take off every trace of the remover; otherwise, your new finish will fail. An alternative would be to go over the surface with sandpaper. Dust off and put on a liberal coat of paste wood filler—white, if that is what you wish. Thin the filler with turpentine to the consistency of thick cream. After 15 minutes or so, wipe off lightly across the grain with a coarse cloth and let dry for 24 hours. Smooth with finest sandpaper and dust off. Finish with clear varnish.

Dusty Cellar Floor

Q: Six months ago we bought a new house. The cement cellar floor is rough and crumbling. Whenever I sweep the cement, I get a full bucket of very fine dust and cement. There seems to be no end to the dust that comes off. Someone told us to neutralize the cellar floor with sulphate, but didn't say how to use it. Please let me know what can be done.

A: If you simply wish to harden the cement and do not intend to paint the floor at a later time, you can use an inexpensive material called waterglass. Use the liquid variety, (sold at farm supply stores, or at mail order house) one part to four parts of water. Spread this liberally all over the floor with a broom and let it dry for a day or two, wiping up any puddles. Then make a second application. The zinc sulphate hardener is a solution of three pounds to the gallon of water. This is mopped on the floor until the cement is well soaked and allowed to dry naturally, which may take some days. The cement will darken slightly. There are also commercial cement hardeners, which will permit the painting of the floor at some later time. (Only rubber base floor paints should be used—not ordinary oil paint.) The hardeners will not be effective on concrete of an exceptionally poor mixture.

Reich Industrialists Revealed As Saviors of Hitler's Party

The one American who perhaps has dug deeper into Nazi war criminality than any other explains in the following dispatch how Hitler harnessed German industry to his war machine. The man who sent the Nazi government leaders to the gallows and prepared the case against the German industrialists now being tried in Nuernberg sells in this interview how the giant Farben cartel bulked large in the German war effort.

* * *

By WILLIAM D. CLARK
United Press Writer

LEBANON, Conn., Oct. 2—German industrialists, including the I. G. Farben works officials now on trial at Nuernberg, saved the Nazi party from collapse in 1932 and underwrote the conspiracy through which Adolf Hitler seized control of the government and later plunged the world into war.

Thomas J. Dodd, special U. S. prosecutor in the war crime trials which sent 10 Nazi military and party leaders to the gallows and Hermann Goering to suicide, said in an exclusive interview with United Press today that not only was this true, but it had never been fully realized the vital role that the industrialists played in building up the Nazi regime.

Dodd, who helped prepare the case against the industrialists, and only a week ago was cited by the President for his prosecution of the Nazi ringleaders, said that "being early supporters of Hitler and the Nazi party, the industrialists were well acquainted from the start with the criminal methods of the Nazi conspiracy.

Lent Money To Nazis

"As early as November 1932, a group of leading German industrialists and financiers, including many of those now on trial, signed a petition to the then President Paul Von Hindenburg, calling upon him to entrust the chancellorship to Hitler. That same month, the Nazi party suffered reverses at the polls. Large party bills were unpaid and the party coffers were empty. Nazism was in a critical situation. This crucial moment, however the industrialists rallied to the support of the Nazis and lent them necessary assistance, financial and otherwise."

From then on, Dodd said, the Nazi leaders and industrialists worked hand in glove, in complete understanding and accord.

On Feb. 20, 1933, and before the German election of March 5, 1933, he said, "Hitler met with approximately 25 of the leading industrialists of Germany at Goering's Berlin house. Among those present were Gustav Krupp and leading officials of the I. G. Farben works. Any doubt of the knowledge of the industrialists as to the criminal methods of the Nazi conspiracy is dispelled by the minutes of this meeting."

The minutes showed, he continued, that "Hitler announced the conspiracy's aim to seize totalitarian control over Germany, to destroy the parliamentary system, to crush all opposition by force, and to restore the power of the Wehrmacht. After Hitler had finished speaking, Gustav Krupp expressed to Hitler the gratitude of the industrialists present for having given them such a clear picture of his ideas.

"Shortly thereafter, on April 1933, when Hitler had entrenched himself in power, Gustav Krupp, as chairman of the Reich Association of German Industrialists, the largest association of German industrialists, submitted to Hitler the plan of the association for the reorganization of German industry, which Krupp stated was characterized by the desire to coordinate economic measures and political necessity.

Get Political Wish

"In the plan itself, Krupp stated that 'the turn of political events is in line with the wishes which I myself and the board of directors have cherished for a long time.'"

Gustav Krupp was among the first group of war criminals indicted but his prosecution was postponed because of his health.

Dodd said that not only were the industrialists "instrumental in promoting the accession of Hitler to power, but they played an important and vital role in the planning and execution of the Nazi plan for aggressive war. They furnished the tools of aggression without which Germany could not have initiated and waged aggressive war.

"In the course of this planning, the activities of the Nazi industrialists were closely synchronized with the military planning of the Wehrmacht and close liaison was established between industrialists such as Krupp and Farben and the German high command. Necessarily, they were pre-informed of projected German military moves.

"These industrialists," Dodd charged, "fashioned the weapons of Nazi conquest, and they were the recipients of the fruits of Nazi victory. They marched with the Wehrmacht and greatly enriched themselves by their unlawful acquisitions. They were the principal beneficiaries of the brutal Nazi slave labor programs, which caused millions of deaths."

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Starling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

Comply with Rules of School, VA Tells Vets

The Veterans Administration today cautioned veterans entering schools and colleges this fall under the G.I. Bill that they must comply with the regularly prescribed standards and practices of the educational institutions during their period of enrollment.

Government-paid tuition to an educational institution does not place a veteran in a special privilege class, VA said.

Student veterans must abide by all the rules and regulations of the institutions where they are enrolled. They must maintain satisfactory academic marks. Willful misconduct or unsatisfactory progress are grounds for withdrawal of subsistence and tuition payments. In the past, cases of willful misconduct or unsatisfactory progress have been negligible and for the most part student veterans have attained academic marks equal to or above the non-veteran students.

The government pays up to $500 a year in tuition to enable a veteran to continue his education. In addition, subsistence allowances are paid to eligible veterans.

VA Now Has Uniform Name for Its Offices

Veterans Administration has changed the names of all its sub-regional and contact offices to Veterans Administration offices. Services to the veterans served by these offices will not be affected in any way by the simplification in name, VA officials said. Each office will continue to do the same work in the same assigned territory as in the past. The large offices will be under the direction of a manager-in-charge. In the smaller offices, these duties will be assigned to an officer-in-charge in addition to his regular duties.

Veterans Study for Definite Job Goals

Veterans Administration Branch Office officials in Columbus, Ohio, today reported that two-thirds of the veterans enrolled in educational institutions under the G.I. Bill in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky in September were taking courses leading to definite job objectives.

Courses regarded as leading toward employment in a particular field include agriculture, business courses, education, engineering, forestry, crafts and trades, medicine, law and architecture.

A VA survey showed engineering as first in popularity, crafts and trades second, commercial courses third and business administration, fourth.

A total of 153,042 veterans were enrolled in schools and colleges in the three states on September 1, including 74,918 in Ohio, 63,862 in Michigan and 14,262 in Kentucky.

Questions and Answers

Q. What are some of the advantages offered to the veteran by the G.I. Bill if he buys a home under its guaranteed loan provisions?

A. With a VA guaranty, the veteran has a better chance of inducing the lender to make a loan. The lender may even consider making the loan where no down payment is to be made on the home. Another advantage is the four per cent rate of interest which is low.

Q. Please tell me which non-service-connected disability benefits are available to World War I veterans and which to peacetime veterans?

A. The law provides that a pension for non-service-connected disability may be payable to permanently and totally disabled World War I veterans. The law does not provide such a pension for peace-time veterans.

Q. My brother entered the service under the Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945 and he now wonders if his rights will be affected by the law officially ending the war on July 25, 1947, insofar as veterans benefits are concerned?

A. No. He will lose none of his rights even though his period of enlistment extends beyond July 25, 1947.

Q. Can I get a guaranteed loan to buy furniture for my home and a pleasure car?

A. No.

Smoking

WILL smoking make you thin? Every doctor has been asked this question hundreds of times, not only by those who hope to find in this habit a magic aid to reducing but by heavy smokers who fear its effects on digestion.

Because of the widespread belief that excessive smoking may account for failure to gain weight or even for malnutrition, several doctors of Santa Barbara, Calif., carried out some studies to determine the actual facts.

They sought to find whether smoking affected the flow of the various juices which control digestion—secretions such as the bile from the liver, and those from the duodenum, of first part of the intestine.

In carrying out their study a tube was passed into the duodenum through the mouth; then the secretions were collected and analyzed to determine the amount of digestive elements present. The persons being tested were then given three cigarets to smoke in succession. Next, a second specimen was collected in the same way, without removing the tube.

Both smokers and non-smokers were tested. It was found that in the group of non-smokers, the smoking of three cigarets in succion had no noticeable effect on the secretions of digestive substances or upon the rate of flow of the secretions from the dudenum. This was true even though the smoking was distateful to the majority of those tested. However, it was noted that there was some decrease in the bile secretion in about half of the group.

In the group of smokers who were tested, again, no effect was noted on the digestive substances, but the bile secretion was diminished.

Therefore, these physicians, who incidentally were Dr. Alfred E. Koehler, Elsie Hill and Norman Marsh, concluded that although excessive smoking may be a factor in weight loss in certain persons who are already underweight, it does not act by lessening the secretions in the duodenum, but rather by causing a mild loss of appetite.

Often, they say, the group of persons mentioned had a bad taste in the mouth which disappeared after smoking was stopped. Cutting down the smoking definitely improved the appetite. The increased appetite, plus intake, were the main causes for weight gain.

Thus it would appear that there is no evidence that reasonable smoking interferes with the secretion of the digestive juices to the point where the digestion of food is interfered with.

As I have so often said, it is not as a rule the use of a thing but its abuse that does harm.

TAFT TO WIND UP WESTERN TEST TOUR

By The Associated Press

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 2—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) winds up his western political testing tour here today in a clash with the Democratic administration on several major issues and in disagreement with some of his own party leaders on at least one—universal military training.

The Ohioan, who turns homeward after a speech here in which he has promised to discuss "the Democratic party," leaves behind newly-voiced opposition to compulsory military training because he said it might become "an obstacle to peace."

Instead, Taft urged in a statement expansion of National Guard training in the technical aspects of warfare which, he said, would provide the core or reserves for building a modern military machine any time it would be needed.

His stand against universal military training put the Ohio senator firmly on record against a proposal which has already won the endorsement of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff.

President Truman also has lined up in favor of the universal military training proposal, thus adding to it the list of major issues of disagreement between the President and Taft, who heads the senate's Republican policy committee.

Taft alluded to his differences with the administration on foreign policy questions, declaring in his statement that the first principle of the American government "should be to maintain peace as long as world conditions do not threaten the freedom of the people of the United States."

"In my opinion," he said, "that has not been the guiding principle of our foreign policy in the last 15 years. I do not feel confident it is the guiding principle of our government today."

He has agreed, however, that Republicans ought to go along as far as possible in preserving the bipartisan foreign policy which he has insisted covers only a relatively small part of this field.

Embryo Dentists Facing New Tests

By International News Service

CHICAGO—So you want to be a dentist?

Today it takes more than just a desire, says the Journal of the American Dental Association in its August issue. The prospective student must pass a dental aptitude testing program.

The plan is being conducted throughout the country in order to test future doctors of dental surgery.

Two objectives are planned:

(1) To collect a description of students entering dentistry today.

(2) To determine among the applicants those best suited for a dental school education.

Besides being able to understand long words, students must be able to visualize patterns and relationships.

Thus when the student becomes a dentist, he will be able to put his fingers on the right trouble spot in your mouth and rattle off the name of the tooth that ails you in apple-pie order.

Included in the aptitude test is a quiz on the ability of using hands and fingers skillfully and dexterously.

General intellectual ability counts, too.

DIPLOMATS SEE RUSS BLUNDER

Soviet Veto of Italy's Bid for UN Membership May Hurt Italian Reds.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 2—Diplomatic experts predicted today that Russia's veto of Italy's bid for United Nations membership would badly handicap Italian Communist efforts to gain greater power and prestige in that strategic Mediterranean country.

American officials privately expressed surprise at the action which Russia took last night in a session of the United Nations security council. Some called it a "political blunder" which would work strongly to the advantage of Italy's present non-Communist government.

The Italian application was supported by the United States, Britain and seven other members of the council and blocked only by the "no" vote of Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

To Appeal Cases

American Ambassador Warren Austin indicated the United States would take the Italian case and those of other Soviet-vetoed countries—Finland, Austria, Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan—to the larger forum of the general assembly.

The ballot on Italy was one of a series of votes taken in the 11-nation council, which split cleanly along the usual east-west line. Not one of five applicant countries considered yesterday received the required veto-free majority. Russia also vetoed Finland. Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, opposed by America and Britain, failed of approval because they could not get the necessary affirmative majority of seven.

Today Russia's string of vetoes stood at the total of 22.

Assembly Quits Session

The security council was not the only UN agency tied in knots by the east-west row, however. The 57-nation general assembly was so badly deadlocked over efforts to fill remaining prospective vacancies in the security and trusteeship councils that it gave up the whole effort, called off temporarily any more meetings in its big auditorium at Flushing-Meadows and returned to Lake Success to committee work.

The main committees scheduled to meet today were those concerned with political and Palestine affairs—dealing with the Greek and Palestine crises. In the political group session Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian delegate, was scheduled along with 12 other speakers to debate American demands that the United Nations act to "protect" Greece against the "aggressions" of its Soviet satellite neighbors. He was expected to continue the Soviet attack on American foreign policy and particularly the Truman doctrine.

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland, head of the American section of the Jewish Agency Executive, was due to present the Jewish case to the special committee on Palestine.

TAFT-HARTLEY ACT CALLED G.O.P.'S "FINEST WORK"

Republican Committeewoman Expressed Pride Over Law.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 2—Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, today described the Taft-Hartley labor law as the party's "finest achievement to date" since the G.O.P. won a congressional majority in the 1946 election.

The Dayton, O., woman, in a speech prepared for delivery before a conference of Republican women leaders from 19 midwestern states, said:

"I am very proud of our Republican party, having promised the public definite things if we won, we have kept our promises insofar as time and a divided executive and legislative command permitted."

Mrs. Brown lauded G.O.P. congressmen for their passage of the Taft-Hartley bill, "because our men did not flinch under heavy bombardment and it was passed by large majorities over the President's veto."

Senator Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut and G.O.P. National Chairman Carroll Reece were listed as principal speakers at the two-day conference which opened today.

DRIVER FINED $100, RIGHTS ARE REVOKED

Appears in Court After Car Hits Parked Machine.

Harley Albert Allison, 67, of 256 North State street pleaded guilty in municipal court Thursday when charged with driving while intoxicated. He was fined $100 and costs and his driving rights were suspended for three years.

He was arrested at 11:10 p. m. Wednesday on North Main street by city police, following a collision between the car he was driving and two parked cars, police said.

According to reports his car crashed first into parked car owned by Otis O. Smith of 559 North Main street knocking it into another parked car owned by Lyster L. Berlin of near Bryan, O. The Smith car, parked in front of his home, was parked just behind the Berlin car.

Considerable damage resulted to the Allison car and the other two cars received fender damage.

EXPORT

gram cutting industrial exports, as well as food shipments, and declared:

"There is no notion that exports will vanish within a few months or the immediately foreseeable future. But even a modest fractional reduction—a strong probability—could set off some substantial economic decline in this country."

"Whether this happens depends upon steps taken to meet the situation, and if it does happen on a substantial scale, the short run outcome will depend upon the magnitude of domestic needs to take up the slack and the speed with which adjustments can be made internally."

Garver said sharp reductions in these export commodities would have prices lowering effects "considerably out of proportion to the amount of the reduction": cotton, tobacco, wheat, rice and to some extent other grains, fats and oils, cheese and condensed and dried milk.

"When it is remembered that Great Britain, in the first quarter of this year," he continued, "took from one-fourth to one-half or more of our exports of such commodities, as cotton, tobacco, meat products, dairy products, fruits and nearly all of the eggs exported, it is obvious why the dollar 'crisis' should concern farmers.

"* * * but the British crisis is generally regarded as only the beginning, to be followed later by further aggravation from developments in France, Italy and other countries."

Y'S MEN TO AID FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE

In a brief business meeting of the Y's Men's Service club Wednesday night, members announced plans to take an active part in activities scheduled for National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-12.

The meeting followed the stag dinner held by the club at Greenwood Inn at which approximately 50 members were present.

A committee was appointed to handle the distribution of fire prevention posters in the northeastern section of Marion's business district. John Gickler, chairman, will be assisted by Paul Dowler, Floyd Wilhelm and R. Cripps.

Announcement was made that "physically handicapped" week will be held the same week, and he urged members engaged in personnel work to give serious consideration to the employment of handicapped job applicants.

President Myers announced the appointment of W. M. Kelsey as project coordinator and also advised the club that J. J. Bray had been placed on the board of directors to fill a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Chas. Harmon.

The club voted to donate $40 to the "Christmas on the High Seas" Fund. The idea behind this fund is to provide gifts to those Army, Navy and Marine personnel who are aboard ship during the Christmas season.

"General" Makes Monkey Of Hall Full of Policemen

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—A hall full of policemen failed to penetrate the disguise of a fake Russian general who made a speech at an FBI banquet last night.

Introduced as "Gen. Feodor Tanieff," chief of the N.K.V.D. or Russian security police, the phoney general brought tempers to the boiling point with his disparaging remarks on the American capitalist system.

He launched into a tirade against the FBI for using "old fashioned Hawkshaw methods" and hinted that an American policeman couldn't find a peach in Georgia.

About the time the hissing began, Ole Olsen of the Olsen and Johnson comedy team silenced the speaker by squirting him with seltzer, pouring a pitcher of ice water on him, and mashing a custard pie in his face. The "general" was an Olsen-Johnson stooge.

The banquet guests were peace officers from all over the country, gathered for an FBI training course.

Frost Hits Corn Hard, Union Co. Agent Says

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 2 — Last weekend's killing frost caused an estimated loss of $2,500,000 in Union county's crop of saleable grade corn, according to Frank Greeneisen, county extension agent. Since one-fifth of this country's farm land is planted in corn, the loss to the 2,200 farmers represents a big financial setback.

Mr. Greeneisen said that in 1945, the saleable corn crop in this county was valued at $5,656,000, of which approximately $1,681,000 was sold by the farmers with the balance fed to livestock. His survey indicated that farmers will lose approximately one million dollars in corn sales, not counting the losses in supplies of feed corn.

Police Chief William E. Marks denied earlier in the week that pickets were brutally beaten. Robert Fletcher, company president, has commended the police for their "excellent job" in enforcing law and order.

Warm Weather Heads Toward Eastern U. S.

At Gordonsville, Va., in the western part of the state, the mercury was 27 this morning, and at Richmond it was 10 degrees lower. 15-YEAR-OLD ADMITS SLAYING CHICAGOAN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 2—A 15-year-old vocational high school boy, described by his parents as a "very good boy," was held in jail today after, police said, he signed a statement admitting the fatal stabbing of a minister's wife in an attempted robbery Sept. 24.

Police Capt. Patrick Collins said the youth, James Hartmann, also admitted he slashed and robbed a young mother in the same south side district in which the stabbing occurred.

He had been seized for questioning in the attack Tuesday night on Mrs. Mary Clausen, 25, mother of two small children. After she identified Hartmann last night, two of her brothers grabbed and beat him before police separated them.

Collins said after young Hartmann finished a statement relating to the attack on Mrs. Clausen, he was questioned about the slaying of Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, 32, wife of a minister, in a busy south side parking lot.

"Yes, I killed her," Collins quoted Hartmann as saying. "But I didn't mean to kill her. I didn't know the knife was open. She came toward me and screamed. I hit her. Then she fell. I ran away."

Collins said the boy's stepfather, Le Roy Hartmann, 43, a bartender, and his mother, Kathleen, 31, told him the youth was "a very good boy at school and at home." They said he did not stay out late at night was obedient and was "always kind to his two younger sisters."

Police said young Hartmann, after being in custody last January for three purse thefts and a burglary, was placed on probation. He entered the vocational school Sept. 2.

Mrs. Bush was the wife of Rev. Francis F. Bush, pastor of a Seventh Day Adventist church and the mother of an adopted two-year-old son.

CLUB HOLDS DINNER MEETING AT HOTEL

Miss Tinklepaugh Discusses Operation of City Hospital.

A dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club at Hotel Harding Wednesday night was in the charge of the public affairs committee of which Mrs Genevieve White is chairman. The general theme was public health. Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, superintendent of nurses at City hospital, spoke. Dr Frederick T. Merchant was also on the program, and dinner music on the accordion was by Mrs. Goldie Swope. Carl Campbell, representing Community Chest, spoke briefly.

Miss Tinklepaugh told of rising costs of hospital upkeep, citing as one example two increases in price of cotton goods since Aug. 1. This upswing was pointed out as a particular problem since hostal rates, at approximately the peak right now, cannot very well be increased further.

At a previous meeting the club voted to give part of proceeds of the concert series which it is sponsoring here in October and November, toward purchase of needed items of equipment at the hospital. Miss Tinkelpaugh invited groups of the club members to make tour of inspection of the hospital.

Other guests attending were introduced including Miss Grace Colegrove, Miss Clara Alice Wilson, Miss Kathryn Bausinger, and Mrs. W. R. Yocom.

Table decorations consisted of a large bowl of fall flowers and white candles in crystal holders at the speakers' table and arrangements of candles surrounded by greenery in rectagular pottery pieces. On the committee besides Mrs. White are Misses Margaret Huffman, Eletha Rogers and Dorothy Haynes, and Mrs. Grace Zachman.

Olive Bordon, Film Star Of '20's, Dies in Poverty

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2—Olive Borden, who rode high in the movieland firmament as a $1,500-a-week star 20 years ago, died in poverty yesterday.

At 40 she had lost the fickle favor of the movie-going public and the studios, her health and wealth were gone, but she was not entirely forgotten—her mother was at her deathbed.

Death came in the Sunshine Mission for Women in the heart of Los Angeles' downtown skid-row. Her mother, Mrs. Sybil Borden, is manager of the mission's commissary. Olive, who had lived and worked there since 1945, succumbed to heart and lung ailments.

Only the day before 'Ollie" brushed back her dark hair and told an interviewer: "The whole world has fallen in on me. But the doctors will make me well."

Miss Borden, starting as a Mack Sennett bathing beauty, starred in the '20's with the late Tom Mix and Lew Cody, with John Boles, George O'Brien and others.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2— The Population Reference Bureau said today that if Europe's population keeps on rising its food shortage may become a permanent world problem.

The bureau, an organization of U. S. university professors, estimated 32 European nations gained 11,000,000 in population during the war, despite heavy casualties, and will gain another 22,000,000 in the next 10 years. The figures did not include Russia.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements ... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us? ... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors ... children sharing in the chores ... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends ... the companionship of man and wife, unruffled by distractions of the city ... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

GAS CO. WINNER IN SAFETY CONTEST

Concern Named for 8th Time in Ten Years.

For the eighth time in the last 10 years, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has won the national safety championship in a contest with other large gas companies of the United States, it was reported today by C. E. Sechrist, local manager.

The National Safety Council announced Ohio Fuel as winner of the 1946-47 contest. Employes of the Gas Co. suffered only 14 disabling injuries in 5,838,788 hours work. A "disabling" injury in the contest is one that prevents the worker from being on the job the following day.

Much of the credit for the Ohio Fuel safety record is given to P. A. Alberty, secretary and safety director, who is retiring after 45 years with the company. John M. Rutherford of Columbus has been elected new company secretary, and Raymond C. Kadel of Columbus has been appointed new safety director.

Belgian trade with the United States averages $100,000,000 a year.

Easy Money, Inflation Breeding New Crop of American Misers

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Easy money and inflation are working together to raise a new crop of misers in the United States. Dr. Herman Oscar Parsons, an expert in the subject, estimates that at least 12,000 of the greedy people now are busily stowing away everything from old newspapers to $1 bills.

The public will hear from only around 200 of these. The others simply will curl up in some forgotten garret, or on some windswept sidewalk, and die minus publicity.

"A miser thrives on opportunity," Parsons explained, "and there could be no greater opportunity than he finds at present. During the depression there were many cranks who could not earn their living and had to be supported either by the city or state since they had no chance to be miserly.

Have Good Jobs Now

"Now many of them have good paying jobs and perhaps for the first time in their lives really have a chance to tuck away diamonds or old razor blades."

Parsons, 42, a member of the English department of the City College of New York, has studied misers from every angle for two years. He plans to publish a book on the subject.

"After World War I," he said, "An actuary in the treasury department figured out that there were around 8,000 misers in the nation and that only about 150 of these would reach the limelight—mostly through spectacular stories in the press after they died."

No Parallel With Literature

Parsons finds little relation between the misers of literature and the tight-fingered folk of real life. "In literature," he explained "they either repent, like Silas Marner, or they are punished for their greed.

"Actually, in real life, few change their ways. And few are punished. Most of them enjoy their meager way of life."

Some aren't so dumb either. For instance, a woman in New Jersey has saved Gibson girl cut-outs most of her life.

"One of these days they may be extremely valuable," Parsons said.

He plans to write a book about James Henry Paine, a grandson of signer of the Declaration of Independence. Paine, who lived in apparent poverty, died in New York in 1685 and left $400,000.

Thought Money Was Trouble

"He was an unusual miser in that he distrusted money because it got him into trouble—sometimes jail—during his life," Parsons said.

Paine once handed a plain paper package to piano manufacturer Charles F. Chickering and asked Chickering to keep it for him.

"Chickering thought it contained odds and ends of musical criticism which Paine had written for newspapers," Parsons said. "He later found $330,000 in old greenbacks."

The dramatic end of Langley and Homer Collyer—who were found dead several months ago in their ramshackle old Fifth avenue brownstone house in Manhattan—was the last miser story to fill the nation's press.

But Parsons says don't worry. There'll be plenty more.

Furs caught in the United States in 1930 were valued at $70,000,000.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TRIAL TO OPEN FRIDAY

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2—Trial of Albert D. Arnold, 49, on a charge of embezzling $1,000 from the Richland Trust Co. of Mansfield, O., will open in federal court here tomorrow. Arnold was indicted in 1945 on a charge of misappropriating $1,000 from the savings account of a step-sister, Adeline H. Channell, at the time of his indictment, Arnold was serving in the army in this country and the indictment was held in abeyance until his discharge.

He pleaded innocent when arraigned Sept. 23.

MARKET RECOVERY SLOWED BY SALES

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Selected stocks negotiated modest recoveries in today's market although many leaders were restrained by profit realizing on the recent upswing.

Dealings, lively at the opening, soon tapered. Early advances were reduced or cancelled here and there near midday with mild irregularity developing.

Ahead at intervals were Youngstown Sheet, International Harvester, Caterpillar Tractor, Oliver Corp., Western Union, North American, Dow Chemical, Du Pont and Santa Fe. Persistent merger talk again put Mission Corp., Pacific Western Oil and Skelly Oil at new 1947 highs. Occasional losers included General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Westinghouse, General Electric, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific.

Air Force Plane Missing Since '42 Believed Found

HAMILTON FIELD, Calif., Oct. 2.—The Army Air Forces said airplane wreckage found in Mount Darwin glacier, 12,700 feet high in the Sierra Nevada, probably was that of an Army navigational trainer missing since Nov. 19, 1942, with four men aboard.

Occupants of the trainer were listed then as Lt. W. R. Gamber, 23, Fayette, O., pilot, and Aviation Cadets Eugene Munn, 23, St. Clairsville, O.; John M. Mortenson, 25, Moscow, Idaho and L. M. Mustonen, 22, Brainerd, Minn.

The navigation plane was overdue on a training flight from Sacramento, Calif., to Corning, 100 miles to the north.

Darwin glacier is 100 miles east of Fresno.

LIQUOR PERMIT DENIED

The permit division of the state liquor department in Columbus has rejected the beer and wine permit application of Robert C. Dixon and William E. Barrett of 793 Davids street, The United Press reported. Reasons for the rejection were the objections from officers of the Evangelical United Brethren church and from others who petitioned against the permit.

Trouble With Hitler, Capone Was They Wouldn't Eat Fish

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

ASHINGTON, Oct. 2—You know what was the matter with Hitler? Al Capone? Jesse James? They wouldn't eat fish. criminals of 'em.

nd before anybody gets the idea I'm on the secret payroll of malgamated Fish Mongers ation, I hasten to report Dr. Carlton Simon, the New criminologist, is the man believes that fish are better ntrolling crime than hand-

Edgar Hoover, either. When confronted with scientific developments concerning fish, it has been my custom to refer to Fred G. Orsonger, who devoted his life to the gov- ment's guppies. He retired a weeks ago as chief of the eral aquarium, but his inter- in the fishy facts of life is un- mmed.

Fish as a solution of the crime problem," he exclaimed. "That's news. I thought everybody that."

Never Arrested Yet

Every day of his life Orsinger d, he has eaten fish and he n't been arrested yet. This is not because iodine is good for the ning muscles of the human leg ster, he said.

And consider my sons, Victor, Bill and Francis," he added. Two teethed on trout. They had n chowder before they were to chew and thereafter they scrod and, whenever possi- le, Norfolk spots. Now look at em.

manages a theater, Billy is a physician, and Francis is a trucking magnate. Grown men they may be, but their father insists they continue to eat fish. He is taking no chances.

The Norfolk spot (a smallish fish with entirley too many bones), Orsinger said, is perhaps the best crime inhibiter. It has the most iodine. The older a Norfolk spot becomes, the more it smells like a drug store. A full-grown spot tastes like a bandaged finger. In Norfolk, Va., where spots are plentiful, criminals aren't.

Boss Gets Goat

In his day at the interior department (and mentioning no names if you don't mind), Orsinger said that sometimes his regular dietary precautions were to no avail. Some fish-hating bureaucrats, with the iodineless heart of a kidnapper, would make a decision that boiled the blood Orsinge.

"And you became emotionally unstable?" I prompted.

"I became a would-be murderer," Orsinger replied.

Before splitting the boss' gullet with a fish-knife, Orsinger invariably ate a halibut lunch to give him strength. The iodine would permeate through his system and Orsinger, no killer now, would laugh.

Thank you, Dr. C., for bringing up the subject, and you, Mr. O., for explaining it.

OHIO C. OF C. AID IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Paul Daugherty Discusses Social Security Systems.

Paul Daugherty of Columbus, a representative of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, was a guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary club, Tuesday at Hotel Harding. His subject was "New Aspect of Social Security Legislation."

Emphasizing that since the present-day social security system includes such a vast number of people, the speaker said it has become one of the nation's major economic problems. In comparing the system of the United States with that of Great Britain he said the formula for collecting social security taxes on present-day excluded groups in Great Britain is to sell special stamps to the domestic workers' group and add another section to the income tax blank of the self-employed.

The people receiving low wages and those who have entered the system recently will receive the greater benefits, he stated. The main point, he said, is to liberalize the present situation, and added that increased taxes will only result in increased promises and run into tremendous costs in years to come, reaching its peak about 1980-2000. The speaker was introduced by Dr. Ralph Burton.

Guests of the club were Rotarians Harley Roley of Minerva, O., Fred Klaus of Bedford, O., John Ryan of Terre Haute, Ind. and A. J. Alaughlin of Moorehead, Minn. Other guests were C. B. King of Los Angeles, Calif., E. D. Keller of Mt. Gilead, La-Veene Kruetu, Warren Smith, Warren Kelsey and Ernest Davidson all of Marion.

The Harding High school reporter for the meeting was Carolyn Self.

Ohio Institutions May Be Foodless by November

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2—John C. Waidner, chief of the state welfare department's business administration division, today predicted the state's mental hospitals and prisons may be without food money by mid-November.

High prices and poor crops on the state farms are reasons why the state's food budget may have a half million dollar deficit, Waidner said.

Money from other accounts would have to be shifted to provide food for the last month and a half of 1947, he added.

Board of Elections Open for Registration

The board of elections office located in the Marion Building and Loan building will remain open Friday, Saturday and next Monday nights, Oct.3-4-6, for the closing of registrations for voting, it was announced today from that office. With Monday as the closing day for registrations, persons who must register are urged to do so as soon as possible. Each of the three days, the office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., through the lunch and dinner hours.

SALES TAX RUNNING HIGH

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2—Sales tax collections for the week ended Sept. 20 were $2,173,700 boosting the total for the year on that date to $75,806,529, and $12,195,778 ahead of the corresponding 1946 period, State Treasurer Don H. Ebright reported today. Collections for the same period last year aggregated $63,670,811, and for the corresponding week $1,670,811.

CORRECTION

Due to a reporter's error in transcribing notes from records in the office of the clerk of courts, an incorrect report of a divorce action was printed in The Star last night. The action of Estelle P. Hoch against Clifford E. Hoch has been dismissed in common pleas court. The report in last night's issue read that the divorce had been granted.

AIR WAVE MAY TIP WEATHER

...sterious Vibrations Studied as Possible Clue to Long-Range Forecasts.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2—Some mys- ...ibrations of waves in ...nfelt and unseen by hu- ...re being explored here for ...ssible bearing on long- ...eather forecasting.

...existence was only re- ...scovered. No one yet ...nat they mean. But there ...rong hunch they spring ... disturbances connected ...anges in the weather.

...S Navy granted more ...25,000 for study of the ...waves at St. Louis uni- versity's famed institute of geophysical technology, headed by Rev. James B. Macelwane S. J.

Predict Storms

Before the war, the institute found that tiny waves called microseisms which travel through the earth could be used to predict accurate the location and paths of tropical storms at sea. These earth waves are only a few millionths of an inch tall, are about eight miles long, and travel at speeds of about 6,000 miles per hour.

It was found that they apparently are caused somehow by vibrations set up by the vortex of a hurricane or other violent storm at sea. The vibrations are transmitted somehow by or through the water to the ocean bottom, and travel thousands of miles to the coast and far inland through the solid earth.

The strange air waves were detected during studies of these earth waves, but this is the first full-scale study of them. It is being carried out by Father Macelwane, Dr. Ross R. Heinrich, and Dr. E. M. Brooks, assistant professors of geophysics, and Douglas Clark and John Bleesoe, graduate research fellows.

Can Detect Waves

Using special barographs, which measure extremely rapid and small changes in air pressure they can detect and record the air waves. Three special microbarographs will be set up soon near the airport here to determine the directions, speeds the wave heights of the vibrations.

Other stations are planned at Bozeman, Mont., and at Ottawa, Canada. Extremely complete data on weather observations will be kept simultaneously to see whether the air waves are connected with weather changes, and whether the waves can be used to predict weather.

Preliminary work over a 50-day period here indicated the waves may be associated with convection currents, the large scale movements and interaction of warm and colder air masses. This kind of movement precedes thunderstorms and cloud formation, and accompanies the advance of cold fronts.

While the air waves are not always recorded, they are often intense and they vary widely in character. The Navy is interested because the microbarographs can be used successfully aboard ships.

Homemade Bread

CELERY OAT BREAD . . . For delicious sandwiches . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Most American housewives, regrettably, think it's too much trouble to make bread. We're bringing up a generation of youngsters who've never smelled that miraculous odor of bread just warm from the oven.

Even if you don't want to go into regular weekly or bi-weekly bakings, to provide the entire supply, why don't you try making some really special breads for tea or luncheon sandwiches and the like? It's not hard and the rewards are plentiful.

Celery Oat Bread

One and two-thirds cups rolled oats, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 2 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1 cup milk.

Spread two-thirds of a cup of rolled oats out on a board and roll very fine with a rolling pin. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Add all the rolled oats and the celery seed. Cream the fat. Add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat thoroughly. Add milk and dry ingredients all at once and stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Turn into well greased loaf pan, and bake in a moderate oven (350-375 degrees) for 35 minutes. This makes one loaf.

That's a good kind of bread to have in these days of high cost for protein. Rolled oats contributed protein, vitamins, minerals and energy. Sandwiches made of this bread are particularly good when filled with softened cream cheese, peach preserves, or chopped egg.

Peach Nut Bread

One cup sliced canned cling peaches, 2½ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon baking soda, ¾ cup brown sugar (packed), ¼ cup shortening, ¾ cup chopped, roasted unblanched almonds, 2 eggs, ½ teaspoon almond flavoring, 1 tablespoon chopped almonds for top.

Drain peaches, mash slightly and beat with a rotary beater until pulp is smooth. Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda and sugar. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add ¾ cup almonds and mix well. Stir in well beaten eggs, peaches and flavoring and mix only until flour is dampened. Pour into greased and floured loaf pan. Sprinkle top with almonds and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about an hour. Cut in very thin slices.

This is such a richly satisfying bread, with so much flavor of its own, that its best sandwich combination is with plain butter or margarine, or at most a thin film of softened cream cheese.

SUICIDES AT NAVARRE

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 2—Nelson E. Emerick shot and killed himself yesterday on a farm west of nearby Navarre after threatening his divorced wife and setting fire to an adjacent farm house and barn, Stark County Sheriff's Deputy Nick Constea reported.

Famed Cartoonist To Address Club

Dick Calkins, famous cartoonist, will entertain the members of the Marion Foremen's Club and their wives when the club holds its Ladies night dinner at the Masonic Temple, Thursday night, Oct. 9.

Mr. Calkins, a cartoonist and entertainer of international reputation, is known to almost everyone as the creator of Buck Rogers, and when he appears here next Thursday evening his subject, brought to the audience in color, with his own crayons, will be "Five Centuries Ahead with Buck Rogers."

Calkins, who was an Army pursuit pilot in World War I, has been a newspaper cartoonist for the past 30 years and will bring an interesting and exciting program when he appears in Marion.

The dinner and program on Oct. 9 constitute one of a series of nine scheduled meetings and industrial plant visitations which the Marion Foremen's club will hold this autumn and in the first half of 1948.

Ban on Use of Grains For Alcohol Suggested

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2—Joseph W. Fichter, master of the Ohio State Grange, said today the nation's farmers might demand the manufacture of alcoholic beverages be halted while a food emergency existed in the world.

"There is a widespread and emphatic sentiment among farmers," he said, "that if it is necessary to feed less grain to livestock as a means of food conservation, the use of grain in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages should be stopped."

President Truman yesterday asked the American people to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain by eating less bread and reducing grain feeding to livestock.

The Grange president, speaking at a luncheon of the Columbus Cooperative club, said he believes "we must feed Europe even at the risk of continuing high prices here at home."

DROP IN CHOICE CUTS ASKED IN FOOD DRIVE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—If consumers stopped buying and farmers stopped producing choice, juicy beef steaks and roasts during the next eight months, the food conservation battle for aiding the hungry abroad would be half won.

Agriculture department livestock specialists estimate that normally 60,000,000 bushels of corn or other grain equivalent are used in the corn belt annually to fatten beef cattle beyond the average of good slaughter grade.

The goal of the food conservation program is to reduce domestic consumption of grain at least 100,000,000 bushels so that exports may come as near as possible meeting essential needs of shortage areas in Europe.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told newsmen yesterday farmers could help save grain by selling hogs at much lighter weights and by abandoning, for the time being, the practice of fattening beef cattle to the top grade.

Cattle fall into four major grades—choice, good, commercial and utility.

Officials said farmers already are beginning to market hogs at lighter weights. Hogs sold at principal markets last week averages 267 pounds compared with 287 a year ago.

Anderson suggested further reductions, with most hogs going to market at weights between 180 and 225 pounds.

Corn saved by feeding hogs to lighter weights and by abandoning the production of choice cattle would be available for dairy and poultry farmers in deficit-feed producing areas who otherwise would be forced to use wheat.

The cabinet food committee has estimated that at least 350,000,000 bushels of wheat will be used as livestock feed this crop year if consumers do not cut down on buying livestock products and if farmers continue to produce choice cattle and heavy hogs. This is about double the quantity fed last year.

WORK UNDER WAY ON FUND CAMPAIGN

List of Speakers To Acquaint Marionites with Need of Drive.

Committee meetings, conferences and schools of instruction are "musts" on the calendars of workers in charge of the annual Marion Community Foundation financial campaign to be held Oct. 20 through Oct. 31. The goal this year is $60,043 to finance the work of the agencies comprising the foundation.

Ralph E. Carhart is campaign chairman, Wilfred Schaffner is in charge of publicity and Charlton Myers is chairman of the speakers bureau.

A recent meeting held by Mr. Myers resulted in the organization of a large group of speakers whose work has already started. The purpose of the speakers' bureau is to acquaint contributors with the work of the agencies and the purpose of the campaign and many of the pre-campaign salesmen have already appeared before clubs and other organizations in the interest of the drive.

This year's campaign will be a house-to-house canvass and will be countywide in scope, the workers explain. Residents of the county and city will not be asked to give but "to buy shares in Marion's future," and provide the same services offered by other cities.

Agencies comprising the foundation are the Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y-Teens of the Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army and Community Foundation Hospitalization and Medical Care fund.

BRUINS BATTER ZANESVILLE, 13-2, TO KNOT FINAL SERIES

Game Booked Tonight; 2 Tilts Scheduled Here for Saturday

By DON C. BURTON

The Marion Cubs evened the final playoff series at one game each with a rousing 13-2 triumph over the Zanesville Dodgers at Lincoln park last night. A crowd of 970 dressed in overcoats and wearing ear-muffs saw the wild contest.

Manager Clay Bryant of the Dodgers appeared the only one in the ball park to get warm during the game as he got rilled in the third inning after Umpire Staley threw Ken Llen out of the game for throwing his bat after striking out.

The Cubs lived up to the reputation of being a big inning club by tallying six runs in the opening round and another half dozen in the fifth. The Dodgers garnered single runs in the fourth and sixth frames. Marion also counted a single run in the seventh.

The two clubs will tangle in the third game of the final series at Lincoln park tonight. No game will be played Friday night, but two games are booked for Saturday with one starting at 2 in the afternoon and the other at 8 p. m. Separate tickets must be purchased for each affair. Should a sixth and seventh game be needed they will be played at Newark Sunday afternoon as the Zanesville park is being used in the Sesqui - Centennial celebration there.

The Cubs put the game on ice in the first inning when they tallied a half dozen times with the aid of five bases on balls and two scratch hits. John Smith got one of the hits as he tried to duck a pitch and the ball hit the bat and rolled slowly toward shortstop. Jim Sabens got the other on a high bouncer to third which

PARENTS' NIGHT SET AT STADIUM FRIDAY

Harding To Entertain with Uhrichsville Game.

It will be Parents' Night at the Stadium Friday when Harding High school meets Uhrichsville in football.

Parents of Prexy gridders will be guests of the Harding Athletic association and will be introduced to fans at half-time ceremonies, Dewey H. Bohyer, athletic director, said.

Harding gridders will try to give their parents a third straight win in this, their second home game. The eastern Ohio boys will be working for win number two, Uhrichsville topped Newcomerstown, 12-0, last Friday, while Harding slaughtered Tiffin Columbian, 25-0.

Prexy scouts report that the Tiger has two fast halfbacks and a powerful tackle which are effective in clawing opposing gridders. The Uhrichsville squad runs from a T formation and makes most of their gains from the ground.

Season record for Uhrichsville stands at one win and two losses. They dropped their opener to Lewisville, 7-0, and their second game to Dover, 19-0.

Harding lost to Fostoria, 12-0, but won from Columbus South in their next start, 19-0.

Adult reserve tickets for the game are now on sale at Markert and Lewis store Bohyer said. Seats in sections B and D are still available. Section C comprises seats on the 50 yard line.

The Uhrichsville football team plans to stay in Marion Friday night at the Harding Hotel.

WALKER GETS FIRST SERIES HOMER. Dixie Walker, Dodger right fielder, is congratulated by Dodger coach Ray Blades (27) as he passes third base on his fourth inning home run in the second game of the World Series. It was first home run of the 1947 series. (Associated Press Wirephoto)

Former Harding Gridder Carrying Ball for DePauw

Charles Roberts, former Harding High school gridder and captain of the squad in 1941, is slated to carry the ball for DePauw university this year.

A senior at DePauw, Roberts plays halfback. He was on the team in his freshman and sophomore years, but missed last year, returning to the campus late after getting out of the Navy. He won a letter during his sophomore year when he played for DePauw while in the Navy V-12 program.

He is the son of Mrs. Chester C. Roberts of 201 South Vine street. His late father was a football star during his college days at the University of Illinois and was named on several All-America teams.

ST. MARY TO TRY AGAIN AT TIFFIN

Irish Have Bested Calvert Once in 8 Times.

The efforts of St. Mary High school to beat Tiffin Calvert in football has been successful but once in eight encounters.

The Irish will try it again tomorrow night at Tiffin, but Coach Gene Fetter is not particularly optimistic about the outcome.

The Tiffin Calvert Senecas are heavy this year—the line averages almost 180 pounds—but they're inexperienced. Only two lettermen returned to the squad.

The green Calvert squad dropped their opener to Galion, 28-0, and their second game to Gibsonburg, 27-0, but came back last week to down Fostoria St. Wendelin by the same score. Quarterback John Omlor got through for some big gains against St. Wendelin, running from the T formation. Halfback James Distel's aerials to end James Harlet accounted for more yardage and a Calvert touchdown against the Fostotria school. But Tom Lonsway at halfback did most of the ball carrying for the Senecas and will no doubt see a lot of action against the Irish tomorrow night.

St. Mary Coach Gene Fetter expects the Tiffin Calvert tussle to be St. Mary's toughest of the season. His boys have been plagued with colds this week, but have sustained no major injuries.

Fetter will probably start the same lineup against Calvert that he used against Carey last week: ends, Ed Moloney and Tom Wagner, tackles, Jim Moloney and Dick Werley, guards, Kevin Krigbaum and Joe Maniaci, center, Dan Smith, quarterback, Dick Schuler, halfbacks, Bob Stuber and Ed Murphy, and fullback, John Baldauf.

Probable Calvert starting lineup: ends, Hartlett and R. Distel, tackles, Miller and Elchert, guards, Sherger and Amlin, center, Rohrback, quarterback, Omlor, halfbacks, Sherwood and Lonsway, and fullback, J. Distel.

Backfield Injuries Add Worry To Fesler's Plans for Purdue

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2—Coach Wes Fesler stepped up Alex Verdova's left halfback indoctrination today as additional practice injuries left the Ohio State Buckeyes with only two players available for the assignments against Purdue's Boilermakers Saturday.

Both Rod Swinehart and George Wertz are lost for Purdue, the Buckeyes first Big Nine conference game, leaving only backs Jim Clark and Mike Cannavino of the regular half contingent sound enough to play.

Swinehart has a bruised rib and Wertz a bruised hip. Bob Brugge, injured earlier likewise won't play and Jerry Krall is out for the season.

Swinehart, an offensive left half, was to man the defensive quarterback position but now Pandel Savic will take over, Fesler says, with Pete Perini, slated for defensive fullback, backing Salvic at quarter. Ollie Cline and Joe Whisler will do all the fullbacking.

The Buckeye mentor pushed the Bucks through a hard hour and a half workout yesterday, sending them to the showers after they successfully stopped Purdue pass plays run by the freshmen team. Fesler declared the Buck line in top shape.

Right Half Bill Newell of Columbiana was named to the travelling squad for the first time, replacing Bob Demmel, out with a shoulder separation.

Only Miracle Can Save Brooklyn as Series Moves To Ebbets Field

Bums Near Bottom of Barrel In Search for Winning Pitcher

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Only a miracle can save the Brooklyn Dodgers after losing the first two games of the 1947 World Series and that miracle probably isn't spelled Joe Hatten.

Failures with Ralph Branca and Vic Lombardi in the opening games resulting in frequent calls to the Dodger bull pen, have scraped the bottom of the thin 10-man staff as the Series shifts to Ebbets field for three days, or less.

Although Manager Burt Shotton refuses to pick his starters until warm-up time, he is left with little choice in making today's selection.

A southpaw couldn't stop the Yankees yesterday as they mauled the Brooks, 10-3. The Dodgers gave a demonstration of inept fielding but Lombardi had to take the rap for nine of the Yankees hits until he was sent to the showers in the fifth inning and certainly did not compare with the consistent chucking of Allie Reynolds who calmly cooled the Dodgers hitters.

The win made the Yanks overwhelming favorites. Only one club, the 1921 Giants, ever won the Series after losing the first two games but that was a first five-of-nine series.

If Shotton passes up Hatten, winner of 17 and loser of eight, the field is wide open. Sore-armed Harry Taylor, only "so so" in two recent relief chores is a dark horse possibility. It could be Clyde King, Hal Gregg, considered a possible starter, Hank Behrman and Rex Barney—all were used in yesterday's rout.

Back home in Flatbush where the National league ball will be used, the Dodgers figure to gain support for their cause. But the Yanks won't look unkindly on the beckoning left field stands.

Many American leaguers have been awaiting the day they would get a chance to see if President Ford Frick's signature on the National league ball was what made it sail longer than the junior circuit's pill.

Newsom To Pitch

With two wins in the bag, Manager Bucky Harris is going to use Bobo Newsome, acquired from Washington after being peddled around following the famous "rebellion" against Durocher.

"I aim to put the frost on Squire Rickey's glasses," he said. "I never quit and I didn't like to have Brooklyn quit on me." So the Yanks have a man with a mission.

After yesterday's demonstration of outfield play it is possible that Shotton may reconsider his season-long decision to use Carl Furillo only against southpaws. The Yanks had Pete Reiser running around with his tongue hanging out, chasing those triples off the bats of Johnny Lindell, George Stirnweiss and Bill Johnson.

Out in front in the first inning before another big crowd of 69,865 who paid $317,731.20 to see the fun, the Yanks never let the Dodgers pass them although they tied the score twice. Stirnweiss and Tommy Henrich treated Lombardi like they owned him.

Jackie Robinson's fly to short left cashed Pee Wee Reese with the tying score in the Dodger third before the Yanks again took charge in their half on triples by Stirnweiss and Lindell. Dixie Walker's homer into the right field seats in the fourth again evened matters until the Yanks got another turn at bat. They went out front on Johnson's three-bagger followed by Phil Rizzuto's double that fell among a huddle of Dodgers and really slammed the door with two in the fifth another in the sixth and a big four in the seventh.

LITTLE SERIES EVENED

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 2—Milwaukee's Brewers and the International league's Syracuse Chiefs were on even terms today with two games each in the Little World Series after the American association club made its first appearance of the series in its home park last night a happy one for 7,926 chilled fans, winning 6-4.

CHARLIE GRIMM GETS FIVE-YEAR CONTRACT

Cub Pilot Resigned, Spiking Cleveland Rumors.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—An old hand will lead the Chicago Cubs' "youth movement" next year and right through 1952.

And the veteran at the wheel will be Charlie Grimm again. Putting a dead stop to season-long rumors that their 49-year-old manager was headed for Cleveland, the Cubs gave Banjo Charlie a solid vote of confidence in the form of a five year contract—a long term agreement unprecedented in the history of the Chicago National league team.

The popular pilot hasn't yet signed the necessary papers but that formality will be taken care of when Grimm, Cubs Manager James Gallagher and Club President Phil Wrigley get together in Chicago.

Grimm beamed and said he was "happy about the whole thing."

"I will try to be a good manager and I will continue to be Charlie Grimm," the smiling Cub chieftain added.

Forgotten and forgiven was the Cubs' sixth place finish in the past campaign, the five-year pact apparently was the board of strategy's way of telling Charlie it wasn't his fault.

The '48 campaign will be Grimm's 12th full or part time season as manager of the Cubs.

Grimm, himself, happily furnished the information that he is the first Cub manager ever to be given more than a one-year contract.

EDISON JUNIOR TEAM SINKS BUCYRUS, 7-0

Sleeper Play Wins Game for Local Eleven.

Edison Junior High school pulled a sleeper play out of their bag of tricks to defeat Bucyrus, 7-0, at the Stadium yesterday.

After a scoreless first half, Edison's Edington, sleeping near midfield, took a pass from Reeves and galloped over for the tally. Luke went around right end for the extra point.

Neither team seemed able to sustain any long drives, though both teams threatened several times only to be stopped on downs or penalties.

The Edison attack was sparked by fullback Bob Smith, while Bucyrus counted on big halfback Herb Jones for powerful ground gaining thrusts through the line.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

FROM the eyes which, but a few moments before, had been filled with tragedy, Noel gave me a look which was a reward for everything I had tried to do for him.

"You are the most understanding person, Aunt Madge!" he said, and I answered him with an airy little wave of the hand as I went out of the door with the key to his apartment, which he had given me, in my hand.

I lost no time in going down for his things, and when I opened the door of his suite and went in, I was struck by the impersonal air of the rooms. It might have been any hotel apartment, and I guessed that Noel, in the intolerable year of Mary's absence, had put away everything that reminded him of her. I made a mental note to go through the suite, and bring it back to the charming livability it had had when Mary was its chatelaine, before either of the two should live in it again.

Methodically I gathered up the things he needed, taking care that his socks and cravat were all right for the brown suit he was wearing. Then, making sure that I had all his shaving necessities, I locked the door on the cheerless rooms and hurried back to my study.

I could hear the water splashing and knew that Noel was in the shower, although there was no burst of song such as always accompanies Dicky's ablutions. I put the things on the table with a little note.

Won't Be Back

"Dear Noel," it read; "I shall not be back, for I shall be busy. At six-thirty, come up to our apartment. Mary will be waiting for you, and so will I. Until then—Aunt Madge."

Then I hurried out, and back up to Dicky's penthouse. The door opened at my knock, and my husband looked me over appraisingly.

"You don't look too frazzled," he said, as he put me into a chair and took one opposite to me.

"I'm not frazzled at all," I assured him, and then told him rapidly of Noel's surprising and reassuring attitude, and of the chance I had given him to get showered, shaved and clothed, and "in his right mind" before he should see Mary, with no previous family contacts.

"He ought to be kissing the hem of your garment," my husband said, with a comradely grin at me.

"He very nearly did," I said demurely, and Dicky glared melodramatically at me.

"Don't let him get too grateful!" he warned me. "There are limits to my patience."

"I'll try to stay inside them," I told him, wrinkling my nose at him. "But tell me how you fared with Philip Veritzen. "I've only a few minutes, for I must get back to Mary."

"I think you'll find Mary surprisingly calm after her interview with old Doc Twitchell," Mary's uncle said sapiently. "She's probably more relieved at his verdict than she would like either Noel or the rest of us to know."

"Oh, Dicky!" I protested. "I'm sure she's sincere in her wish for a child!"

"Of course she is," he retorted, adding, "In due season!" with a provoking grin.

"Don't get me wrong," he went on quickly, as my eyebrows involuntarily contracted. "Of course she wants a child—is crazy to have one—and she'll make a damned good mother. But first of all, she's got to prove to herself that she can make a come-back in the theater; that she isn't all washed up, as she thought she was, poor kid! Once she's proved that to herself, and the world, she'll be ready for motherhood."

"I think I agree with you," I said.

"But you haven't said a word about Phil."

"Give me time, Woman, give me time!" my husband ordered.

"But time is 'what I has the lenstest,'" I complained.

"All right, all right," he said. "Here's the dope. I gave old Phil and Olga the lowdown about the situation in strictest confidence, and I was glad I did. I thought Phil would have a stroke when I told him of Noel's views, and I think he's going to pension off old Doc Twitchell for life, he's so grateful to him. But he's promised to leave Noel strictly alone, force no confidences, and wait until you give the word to tell him the truth about the inherited royal rages of the ruling house of Transvania."

Everything All Right

"Then everything's all right," I said, rising.

"Seems to be," he replied. "But will you tell me why our young daughter appears to have become a permanent boarder at the Philip Veritzens?"

"Oh, I had forgotten!" I said. "Olina asked to have her as a dinner guest when she brought her home from school."

"That's the how-manyth time since Mary came home?" he grumbled. "I never see her any more."

"This is the second time she's been up there," I told him severely. "Don't be jealous! And be down at the apartment for dinner at six-thirty."

I hurried out of the studio and down to our own apartment, where Mary greeted me with shining eyes.

"I'm going to make a medal to put on Doctor Twitchell's chest," she said. "It's to read: 'For Distinguished Service to his goofiest patient!'"
